Course Requirements:

Class Participation (weekly):

Your attendance and participation at your school and seminar sessions is critical not only to your own success, but to that of your colleagues. Attendance and participation are expected in both your classroom and in seminars, but emergencies do arise. Please notify your cooperating teacher and your supervisor if you will be tardy or absent from your internship or seminar. Excessive late arrivals, lack of preparation, and any unsatisfactory absence—one that is not pre-arranged and/or approved by an instructor—will severely and negatively impact your grade. Projects late due to unsatisfactory absences will be accepted at the discretion of the instructor. Attendance and completion of seminar assignments can affect whether or not you successfully complete your internship. Please turn all electronic devices on silent when you enter class.

Becoming a Reflective Practitioner (Recommended practice):

You are becoming a professional teacher. Be open to new experiences, ideas, challenges, and your continuous professional development.

It is your responsibility to come to class with insights, questions, comments, and concerns based on your internship experience. The quality of our conversations and your growth will be largely based on your commitment to engaging deeply with your student teaching experience. In order to reflect on your own learning and to be ready to discuss your insights, questions, you will need to keep a daily journal (physical or electronic) of your experience. This will be a private place for you to keep track of best practices, big ideas, and burning issues. Please bring your journal to the seminar. .

Weekly Blackboard Discussion Board Participation (Due Weekly):

You are expected to log on several times a week to check for assignments, posts, and/or participate in online discussions. Your online commitment includes the following tasks:

- 1) Posting of your weekly reflection based on your internship experience (see Appendix A if you need guiding questions to focus your reflection on). Each week there will be a new thread available for your weekly reflection. The weekly reflection is due no later than Sunday by 11:59 pm. *You may use the same reflection from EDCI 790 in this weekly post.
- 2) Graduate students are required to locate and post a peer-reviewed article related to the topic of their weekly reflection and integrate what they glean from the article into their reflection. By the end of the semester you must have included at a minimum three articles in your reflections. Use this as an opportunity to start thinking about the challenges of teaching and learning that you would like to further explore in your research project next semester.
- 3) As a critical friend you will respond to your colleague's weekly reflection on Blackboard by the time we meet for class. Your responses to your colleague's posts should be respectful, intellectually curious, and go beyond the superficial (e.g. "That's great!").

Reflection about Lesson Plan (selected date):

On the date you select, bring to seminar one complete lesson plan that you recently taught, an uploaded video on GoReact, as well as any teaching tools you used and a sample of student work produced in this lesson. This can be a GoReact video that you shared with your university supervisor. You will show a portion (1-3 minutes) of the video in class that you want to further evaluate, reflect on, and discuss with your peers. Come prepared to discuss, reflect, and ask and answer questions. The presentation and discussion will be about 10-12 minutes long.

Attendance Policy

Attendance in the course is mandatory. If you cannot come to a specific class session due to a schedule conflict, notify the instructor at least one week in advance for an excused absence. Attendance is tied into your participation grade. If you are not in class, you are not participating.

Late Work

Work is due on the announced due date. All late work will incur a penalty of 10 percent for each day late. The only exception to this is for those students with excused absences (see Attendance Policy above).

Course Requirements

All assignments should be turned in on the due date indicated in the schedule below via Blackboard (unless directed otherwise) by midnight. All projects must be typed, in 12-point font, with one inch margins, double-spaced, in Times New Roman font. Professional writing quality (including mechanics, organization, and content) is expected in each writing assignment, so please proofread carefully. Late papers and projects will not be accepted without penalty (10% each day late), excepting extraordinary circumstances. Please see instructor with questions and concerns about assignments, expectations, or seminar activities.

Grading Scale

Assignment	Due Dates	Points	Percentage of final grade
Class participation	Weekly	30	30
*Reflections and participation including 3 article presentations	Weekly	60	60
Reflection about lesson plan	Selected date	10	10
Total		100	100

Differentiated Assignment for Undergraduate and Graduate Students:

In addition to the weekly reflections, graduate students are required to also locate and post three peer-reviewed articles related to dilemmas in teaching practice they have identified. They are required to report out and present on the key points and connections from the theoretical stance of the article to their practice and integrate what they glean from the article into their reflections. Articles should be posted in the Class Resource Folder on Bb.
