COURSE DESCRIPTION

Content, methodology, and resource materials in teaching health education for physical education majors. Field experience is a requirement.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

At the completion of this course students should be able to:

1. Identify the basic divisions of comprehensive school health education programs, the eight components of the school health program, and the ten major content areas.
2. Describe the application of teaching methods for reducing the risk behaviors (6 categories identified by CDC) affecting today's learners.
3. Identify and implement appropriate learning opportunities related to learner developmental needs and individual variations during field experience.
4. Create and implement appropriate instructional strategies for all learners, as they relate to the ten major health content areas, the National Standards of Health Education, and the Health Standards of Learning for Virginia Public Schools.
5. Develop and deliver lesson plans to meet diverse learning needs.
6. Use technology (i.e. websites, power point) for current health knowledge and the needs of the learner.
7. Apply appropriate classroom management and instructional strategies for effective learner environments.
8. Develop appropriate assessment techniques in the lesson plans congruent with program goals and behavioral objectives.
9. Peer evaluate and self-evaluate teaching through journal writing and lesson plans.
10. Identify and use community resources to enhance health education opportunities.

COURSE OVERVIEW

Students are held to the standards of the George Mason University Honor Code. You are expected to attend all class sessions, actively participate in class discussions, complete in-class exercises, field experience, and fulfill all assignments.

Assignments that are not turned in on the due date will forfeit half of the maximum points (i.e. assignment is worth 20 points on due date and 10 points after the due date).

COURSE PROJECTS

Bulletin Boards are due September 21. Requirements will be discussed in class.

Class Presentation-Teach a 25-30 minute interactive lesson to the class. Draw out of the hat a health content area (you choose the health goal) and date of the presentation. Choose the grade level (it cannot be the same level as your field experience). Use of power point is required. The reflection of your lesson is due the same day you present the lesson. Class presentations will be October 5-November 7.

Field Experience-Observe 2 health lessons at different schools. Teach a 45-minute health lesson at our predetermined schools. Lessons will be presented in our class before they are presented in the schools. Requirements will be discussed in class.

Resource File-Develop a health education resource file on the ten major content areas of health education discussed in your textbook. All articles/lesson plans must be current (within the last year). Required is one resource for each of the ten content areas and a brief description of how you, as a teacher, would utilize this information in your classroom. The same website (i.e. KidsHealth.org) can be used no more than 2 times. Resource files are part of your Methods Notebook and are due December 5 at 9:00 a.m.

Journals-Write a journal for each lesson presented (field experience and class). You must be an active participant during the lesson to submit a journal. The journal will have the following items: the name of the presenter (teacher), the date of the presentation and your thoughts with the following questions as your guide: 1) List the instructional strategies/methods used to make the lesson interactive. 2) What was the teacher trying to teach the students? Be specific. 3) Did you, the student, learn what the teacher was teaching? Why or why not? If yes, how did the teacher help you learn the information? If no, how could the teacher have helped you learn the information? Journals that show accuracy, thought, and reflection are worth 3 points. Journals are due at the end of each class on the day of the presentation. Save all graded journals for the Methods Notebook due on December 5.

Health Methods Notebook-The requirements for the Methods Notebook will be discussed in class. Save everything you receive in class for your Notebook due on December 5.

Student Expectations

- Students must adhere to the guidelines of the George Mason University Honor Code [See <http://academicintegrity.gmu.edu/honorcode/>].
- Students with disabilities who seek accommodations in a course must be registered with the George Mason University Office of Disability Services (ODS) and inform their instructor, in writing, at the beginning of the semester [See <http://ods.gmu.edu/>].
- Students must follow the university policy for Responsible Use of Computing [See <http://universitypolicy.gmu.edu/1301gen.html>].
- Students are responsible for the content of university communications sent to their George Mason University email account and are required to activate their account and check it regularly. All communication from the university, college, school, and program will be sent to students solely through their Mason email account.
- Students must follow the university policy stating that all sound emitting devices shall be turned off during class unless otherwise authorized by the instructor.
- Students are expected to exhibit professional behaviors and dispositions at all times.

Campus Resources

- The George Mason University Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS) staff consists of professional counseling and clinical psychologists, social workers, and counselors who offer a wide range of services (e.g., individual and group counseling, workshops and outreach programs) to enhance students' personal experience and academic performance [See <http://caps.gmu.edu/>].
- The George Mason University Writing Center staff provides a variety of resources and services (e.g., tutoring, workshops, writing guides, handbooks) intended to support students as they work to construct and share knowledge through writing [See <http://writingcenter.gmu.edu/>].
