Course Description Education 672 explores the processes that influence the intellectual, social, emotional and physical development of middle and high school students. Within that context, the course further examines the processes and theories that provide a basis for understanding the learning process. Particular attention is given to constructivist theories and practices of learning, the role of symbolic competence as a mediator of learning, understanding, and knowing, and the facilitation of critical thinking and problem solving. Processes of developing and learning are considered as they impact the design of instruction and the selection of curriculum. The course also explores the relation of theories of learning to the construction of learning environments, student motivation, classroom management, assessment and how technology supports teaching and learning.

Course Methodology

The course is structured around readings, case analyses, reflections on those readings, conceptual analyses of developmental psychology and learning theories, expert group projects, a review of current research, and technology activities. EDUC 672 seeks to build clear bridges between theoretical/research perspectives and classroom practice. Student participation and involvement are crucial for making the course successful for everyone. The class will involve large and small group work, and individualized work on the online discussion link on Bb. The online discussions are to be considered a regular instructional time, and the assignments given are the equivalent of a full, in-class session.

Relationship Between Course Objectives and Conceptual Framework Core Values

Course Objectives	Conceptual Framework Core Values
1. Students will demonstrate an understanding of stages and processes relating to adolescents’ social, emotional, moral, cognitive, and physical development by watching an adolescent movie, interviewing an adolescent and teacher, and analyzing these characteristics in three five-page research papers.	Research based practice Ethical Leadership Social Justice

Course Objectives

Students will develop and reinforce their critical thinking, problem solving, oral, and writing skills by participating in a collaborative group that researches and presents various aspects of psychological theory and research using PowerPoint slides.

Students will demonstrate an understanding of the process of creating a learning environment in which adolescents construct knowledge, access prior knowledge, engage in problem solving, and add information to social/environmental scaffolding through successfully analyzing case studies and analysis of peer-reviewed, data-based research shared with classmates on Bb.

Course Requirements

1. Classroom Participation and Attendance Policy: Due to the importance of classroom presentations and classroom discussion (including case studies) to your total learning experience, attendance and participation are important. Readings must be completed before class. Attendance and participation (including Bb assignments) make up 10% of the grade. If you must miss a class, notify the instructor (preferably in advance), and you are still responsible for completing all assignments and readings for the next class. You are responsible for getting assignments in on time and catching up if you are absent. [Anyone missing more than two classes should see the instructor to discuss dropping the class.]

2. Written Assignments: All written assignments must be completed on a word processor. Assignments are to be turned in as hard copy on the date due. If you are absent you need to make arrangements to get the assignment to the instructor. There is a 20% late penalty for late assignments, unless arrangements have been made, at the discretion of the instructor. In addition, all work submitted in this course must be your own or attributed to the proper author using the appropriate research reference format (APA). Refer to the GMU Honor Code for further information <http://oai.gmu.edu/honor-code/><http://oai.gmu.edu/honor-code>. Students must use the writing style described in the Fifth Edition of the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (APA) or a similar style manual or resources on OWL Purdue.

3. Oral Group Presentation: Students will be assigned to groups of no more than four students. Each group will select a chapter from the book, additional research and readings related to the topics in the chapter to present to the class. Research cited in the presentation should reflect data based research in adolescent development. The oral presentation includes both a description of a developmental theory that underlies the research cited and an interactive activity for the class that demonstrates application of the theory in classroom instruction. The presentation should last 20-40 minutes (be mindful of the time limit) and should include use of power point to present information. The power point should be sent to the instructor at least two days prior to the class meeting so it can be posted on Bb. References for the presentation should be included on the last slide of the power point. (20 points)

4. Fieldwork Assignments: Fieldwork Assignment #1 – Analysis of educational theory seen in teen-based movie (can be done with a partner)

Choose any one of these “teenage flicks:” The Great Gatsby, Stand and Deliver, Dead Poet’s Society, Dangerous Minds, To Sir with Love, Mr. Holland’s Opus, Divergent, Coach Carter, Finding Forrester, Napoleon Dynamite, Secret Life of Bees, Freedom Writers or Hunger Games. Feel free to explore and find a movie that might be relevant. If you choose a different movie, please check with the instructor before you use it to complete this assignment. After watching the film, please analyze the adolescent behavior, cliques, characteristics, and interactions in a five-page (double-spaced) paper. Look for five characteristics of adolescent development that are mentioned throughout the textbook. In the paper briefly describe the characteristic and then explain how circumstances in the movie illustrate the theory. Use direct and indirect quotations from the movie, with appropriate citations for the text and movie in APA format. (10 Points)

Fieldwork Assignment #2 – Independent Analysis of Case Study (Cases 11 and 36) (can be done with a partner)

Students will be assigned two case studies to compare and analyze, supported by information presented in the Woolfolk text that describes adolescent development (e.g.— physical, social/emotional, cognitive and motivation). The comparison/analysis should also include a discussion of how the characteristics presented in the case studies would influence classroom strategies you would use. You need to cite the text to support your analysis with necessary citations in APA format. The analysis of the two case studies and teaching applications should be at least five pages in length (total). (10 points)

Fieldwork Assignment #3- Interview an Adolescent (can be done with a partner)

Interview an adolescent about how motivation affects his/her learning and behavior. That is, what motivates this student to succeed? Also, interview a teacher about motivational techniques that work in the classroom. The student and teacher do NOT need to be in the same classroom. The interview and analysis should result in a paper that shows a connection between information gained from the interview with motivation, social/cognitive and cognitive development. Students need to present teaching strategies that support positive motivation and engagement in classroom instruction, with a connection to theory and research discussed in class, in a paper at least five pages in length. References should be cited from the Woolfolk textbook and other research discussed in class. (10 points)

5. Application Project (PBA) (must be individual and submitted to Taskstream)

Students will create a composite description of a typical adolescent that may be encountered in a general education classroom. 1) Students will describe the physical, social/emotional and cognitive/language development of the adolescent, and resources available in the home, school and community. 2) Strategies for determining adolescent motivation, prior knowledge and values and goals of the adolescent will be described. 3) Teaching strategies for meeting the needs of the adolescent within a classroom will be described. 4) Authentic assessment strategies that measure transfer of classroom learning to the adolescent's out-of-school learning will be described. All strategies will be supported by at least two research references for each set of strategies (six references total) and the textbook, in APA format. (30 points)

Every student registered for any (CEHD, Secondary Education) course with a required performance-based assessment is required to submit this assessment (Application Project), to TaskStream (regardless of whether a course is an elective, a onetime course or part of an undergraduate minor.) Evaluation of your performance-based assessment will also be provided using TaskStream. Failure to submit the project to TaskStream will result in a the course instructor reporting the course grade as Incomplete (IN). Unless this grade is changed upon completion of the required TaskStream submission, the IN will convert to an F nine weeks into the following semester.

6. Bb assignment

Students will participate in a two-part Bb discussion (out-of-class). Part I involves summarizing a peer-reviewed, data-based research article related to adolescent literacy development, risk-taking behavior, homelessness, career awareness, adolescent pregnancy, and/or self-destructive behaviors such as self-mutilation or gang-involvement. Students will also post suggested strategies for how to learn if adolescents are facing that issue and how to help adolescents cope with the issue in a classroom setting. All students will read the discussion board posts of others and be prepared to discuss in class. Make sure to include the full reference in APA format for the article on Bb. Part II of the Bb assignment is to view a presentation by Dr. George Banks to the U.S. Dept of Education regarding minority student achievement. Students will summarize the main points of the presentation, and then post three applications of the points made in the presentation to the student's own teaching. (10 points)

NOTE: Maintain copies of all projects to document progress through the Secondary Education Program. Projects may become part of your professional portfolio, and useful when you have your own classroom.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION FOR LICENSURE COMPLETION

Student Clinical Practice: Internship Requirements

Testing

Beginning with Spring 2015 internships, all official and passing test scores must be submitted and in the Mason system (i.e. Banner/PatriotWeb) by the internship application deadline. Allow a minimum of six weeks for official test scores to arrive at Mason. Testing too close to the application deadline means scores will not arrive in time and the internship application will not be accepted.

Required tests:

- Praxis Core Academic Skills for Educators Tests (or qualifying substitute)
- VCLA
- Praxis II (Content Knowledge exam in your specific endorsement area)

For details, please check <http://cehd.gmu.edu/teacher/test/>

Endorsements

Please note that ALL endorsement coursework must be completed, with all transcripts submitted and approved by the CEHD Endorsement Office, prior to the internship application deadline. Since the internship application must be submitted in the semester prior to the actual internship, please make an appointment to meet with the Endorsement Specialist and plan the completion of your Endorsements accordingly.

CPR/AED/First Aid

Beginning with spring 2015 internships, verification that the Emergency First Aid, CPR, and Use of AED Certification or Training requirement must be submitted and in the Mason system (i.e. Banner/PatriotWeb) by the application deadline. Students must submit one of the "acceptable evidence" documents listed at <http://cehd.gmu.edu/teacher/emergency-first-aid> to CEHD Student and Academic Affairs. In order to have the requirement reflected as met in the Mason system, documents can be scanned/e-mailed to CEHDacad@gmu.edu or dropped-off in Thompson Hall, Suite 2300.

Background Checks/Fingerprints

All local school systems require students to complete a criminal background check through their human resources office (not through George Mason University) prior to beginning the internship. Detailed instructions on the process will be sent to the student from either the school system or Mason. Students are strongly advised to disclose any/all legal incidents that may appear on their records. The consequence of failing to do so, whether or not such incidents resulted in conviction, is termination of the internship.

Please Note

Your G-Number must be clearly noted (visible and legible) on the face of the document(s) that you submit.

Application

The internship application can be downloaded at <http://cehd.gmu.edu/teacher/internships-field-experience>
