COURSE DESCRIPTION:

Examines school curriculum, assessment, content, and teaching practices for middle and high school physical education programs. Requires field experience

COURSE OBJECTIVES

At the completion of this course teacher candidates should be able to:

1. Use different forms of assessment (e.g. formative, peer, self) in order to evaluate learners' motor, cognitive, and affective skills and use that information to inform the learner, and design activities appropriate to learners' needs in all three domains.
2. Apply a systematic approach to curriculum development for identifying, selecting and implementing learning activities appropriate for a wide range of skill ability and learning styles.
3. Accommodate learners' different styles of learning by using different means of communication (e.g. poster, task card) when peer-teaching in class and during the field experience.
4. Develop a sequence of lesson plans related to motor skills taught at their field experience placement that is appropriate, realistic and relevant to learners and implement one of the lesson plans.
5. Develop a unit plan (i.e. program and instructional goals, tasks, instructional strategies, assessment procedures, & safety issues) that will accommodate different learning styles.
6. Teach a lesson from the unit plan to peers, and modify it to ensure learner progress, motivation, and safety, if necessary.
7. Use reflective techniques with learners such as self-assessment and reflection on their knowledge, experiences, and skills, to foster learner responsibilities for one's own learning.
8. Use available technology and other kinds of resources (e.g. printed material) to select and implement appropriate learning experience, identify strategies to promote physical activities in schools and in the community, and foster personal growth.
9. Teach outdoor recreation/adventure, dance/rhythm, sports/games and fitness activities that will appeal to learners and encourage them to be active inside and outside of the school.
10. Develop activities in which learners have to demonstrate appropriate personal and social behavior such as respect for others and cooperation, in order to have a productive environment.
11. Describe different motivational strategies to manage learners' behaviors and improve learning.
12. Describe and use teaching styles that stimulate interactions, involve the learners cognitively, and promote different ways of thinking.
13. Use their field experience to establish connections with partners in the field to support eventual learner growth.
14. Describe the different major educational philosophies and values orientations, and recognize teaching behaviors that will reflect them.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

GMU is an Honor Code university; please see the Office for Academic Integrity for a full description of the code and the honor committee process. The principle of academic integrity is taken very seriously and violations are treated gravely. What does academic integrity mean in this course? Essentially this: when you are responsible for a task, you will perform that task. When you rely on someone else's work in an aspect of the performance of that task, you will give full credit in the proper, accepted form. When in doubt (of any kind) ask for guidance and clarification.

PROFESSIONAL ASSOCIATION STANDARDS – NASPE/CAEP

- Standard 1: Scientific and Theoretical Knowledge: Physical education teacher candidates know and apply discipline-specific scientific and theoretical concepts critical to the development of physically educated individuals.
- Standard 3: Planning and Implementation: Physical education teacher candidates plan and implement developmentally appropriate learning experiences aligned with local, state, and national standards to address the diverse needs of all students.
- Standard 4: Instructional Delivery and Management: Physical education teacher candidates use effective communication and pedagogical skills and strategies to enhance student engagement and learning.

Attendance Policy

In accordance with the GMU Attendance Policies (University catalog, 2004-2005 p.33), "Students are expected to attend the class periods of the courses for which they register. In-class participation is important to the individual student and to the class as a whole. Because class participation may be a factor in grading, instructors may use absence, tardiness or early departure as de facto evidence of non-participation."

The following scale will be used

- One (1) absences is permitted
- Two (1) “tardies”*= 1 absence
- Two (1) “early departures”*= 1 absence
- 2 absences = 10 grade points
- 3 absences or more = 15 grade points

*Attendance is taken at the beginning of class. A student will be considered late once attendance has been taken. Leaving more than 10 minutes before the end of the class will be considered an early departure.

Performance Based Assessment

Every student registered for any Physical and Health Education course with a required performance-based assessment is required to submit this assessment, Field Experience, to Tk20 through Blackboard (regardless of whether the student is taking the course as an elective, a onetime course or as part of an undergraduate minor). Evaluation of the performance-based assessment by the course instructor will also be completed in Tk20 through Blackboard. Failure to submit the assessment to Tk20 (through Blackboard) will result in the course instructor reporting the course grade as Incomplete (IN). Unless the IN grade is changed upon completion of the required Tk20 submission, the IN will convert to an F nine weeks into the following semester.
