COURSE DESCRIPTION:

A. Prerequisites/Corequisites

Must be employed by a school with PWCS and consent of the instructor

B. University Catalog Course Description

Course participants will learn how to administer, score, and interpret records of oral reading, Dr. Marie Clay's An Observation Survey of Early Literacy Achievement and Slosson SORT-3. These tasks are appropriate for children between the ages of five and about nine years.

C. Expanded Course Description

The student who successfully completes this course will:

- Explore the theoretical significance of systematic observation as a method of assessing early literacy achievement.
- Experience the administration and interpretation of an early literacy assessment.
- Develop awareness of principles of language structure and functions related to children's oral language development.
- Develop skill in using researcher's tool for recording a written record of children's oral reading.

PROFESSIONAL STANDARDS

A. International Literacy Association (ILA) Standards

Standards 2010: Standard 3

Assessment and Evaluation

Candidates use a variety of assessment tools and practices to plan and evaluate effective reading and writing instruction.

The Assessment and Evaluation Standard recognizes the need to prepare teachers for using a variety of assessment tools and practices to plan and evaluate effective reading and writing instruction. The elements featured in this standard relate to the systematic monitoring of student performance at individual, classroom, school, and system-wide levels. Teacher educators who specialize in literacy play a critical role in preparing teachers for multifaceted assessment responsibilities.

The following are the major assumptions of the Standards 2010 Committee for developing this standard and its elements:

- The most fundamental goal of assessment and evaluation is to optimize student learning.
- Effective assessment practices inform instruction.
- Competent reading professionals appreciate the importance of assessment.
- Effective reading professionals demonstrate a skilled use of assessment processes and results.
- Competent reading professionals are knowledgeable of standardized tests and their uses and limitations in the assessment process.
- Effective reading professionals are able to analyze data and communicate findings and implications to appropriate audiences.

B. Reading Recovery Council of North America (RRCNA) Standards

Standards and Guidelines for Selection of Teachers

- Be employed in a school system that has a commitment to implementation.
- Hold teacher certification.
- Show evidence of successful teaching experience.

Course Work and Professional Development

- Participate in assessment training sessions.

Implementing Individual Lessons

- Administer Observation Survey as appropriate throughout the year.
- Communicate with parents, first-grade teachers, and other school personnel throughout the year.
- Submit data to the teacher leader as required.

LEARNER OUTCOMES or OBJECTIVES:

The student who successfully completes this course will:

- Explore the theoretical significance of systematic observation as a method of assessing early literacy achievement.
- Experience the administration and interpretation of an early literacy assessment.
- Develop awareness of principles of language structure and functions related to children's oral language development.
- Develop skill in using researcher's tool for recording a written record of children's oral reading.

REQUIRED TEXTS:

Clay, M. (2013). An observation survey of early literacy achievement (3rd ed.), Portsmouth, NH: Heinemann.

Clay, M.M. (2000). Follow Me, Moon. Rosedale, New Zealand: Pearson.

Clay, M.M. (2000). No Shoes. Rosedale, New Zealand: Pearson.

COURSE ASSIGNMENTS AND EXAMINATIONS:

A. Required Course Practices

- Read and discuss An Observation Survey of Early Literacy Achievement (OSELA) and Record of Oral Language
- Observe two children using Dr. Marie Clay's OSELA
  - Through systematic observation measurement tasks, teachers will observe...
    - The child's use of oral language and how he controls sentence structures and inflections
    - Concepts about print (how print encodes information)
    - The reading of continuous text (taking a running record)
    - Letter knowledge
    - Reading vocabulary (words the child knows when reading)
    - Writing vocabulary (words the child knows when writing)
    - Hearing and recording sounds in words (both phonemic awareness and the linking of phonemes to letters).
      - Use standard procedures to assure reliability
- Use OSELA results to identify children struggling with literacy
- Analyze student performance on the OSELA tasks
  - Discuss the processing and progress of children
- Write one Observation Survey Summary Sheets on one child
- Write initial Predictions of Progress (iPoPs) for further observations
- Begin interacting effectively as a group with all members practicing articulating their thoughts and engaging in evaluating each session

B. Suggested method(s) for evaluating student performance:

Grading for this course will be based on performance related to specific course requirements that include collecting and analyzing assessment data and participating in professional discussion groups.

Evaluation	Points
Class participation (10 points per clock hour)	275
Student Observation	100
Student Administration	100
Student Observation Documentation	060
Student Administration Final Exam Summary	260
Total	795

C. Grading

100-99=A+; 98-93=A; 92-90=A-; 89-88=B+; 87-80=B; 79-70=C; 69-0=F (Rounded to nearest whole)
Final Summaries will be deducted 10% of the total points possible for each hour past the 12:30 deadline on the due date. No assignments will be accepted after 4:00 PM on the due date.

D. Absences

Students are expected to attend and participate in all classes as this is a prerequisite for the year-long Reading Recovery/Lessons in Literacy course. If a student is absent, percentage points based on 27.5 clock hours will be deducted from the final grade. For example, the student missed day 5 from 9:00 to 12:30. Therefore, the student missed 3.5 hours of the 27.5 of the class. This equals 12.7% of the final grade being deducted. If 760/795 points (A) were earned during the class, a total of 101 (12.7% of 795 possible) would be deducted. The student would end up with 659 points = 82.9% (rounded to 83%) = B.

GMU POLICIES AND RESOURCES FOR STUDENTS

- a. Students must adhere to the guidelines of the George Mason University Honor Code (See <http://oai.gmu.edu/the-mason-honor-code/>).
- b. Students must follow the university policy for Responsible Use of Computing (See <http://universitypolicy.gmu.edu/policies/responsible-use-of-computing/>).
- c. Students are responsible for the content of university communications sent to their George Mason University email account and are required to activate their account and check it regularly. All communication from the university, college, school, and program will be sent to students solely through their Mason email account.
- d. The George Mason University Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS) staff consists of professional counseling and clinical psychologists, social workers, and counselors who offer a wide range of services (e.g., individual and group counseling, workshops and outreach programs) to enhance students' personal experience and academic performance (See <http://caps.gmu.edu/>).
- e. Students with disabilities who seek accommodations in a course must be registered with the George Mason University Office of Disability Services (ODS) and inform their instructor, in writing, at the beginning of the semester (See <http://ods.gmu.edu/>).
- f. Students must follow the university policy stating that all sound emitting devices shall be turned off during class unless otherwise authorized by the instructor.
- g. The George Mason University Writing Center staff provides a variety of resources and services (e.g., tutoring, workshops, writing guides, handbooks) intended to support students as they work to construct and share knowledge through writing (See <http://writingcenter.gmu.edu/>).

PROFESSIONAL DISPOSITIONS

Students are expected to exhibit professional behaviors and dispositions at all times.

CORE VALUES COMMITMENT

The College of Education & Human Development is committed to collaboration, ethical leadership, innovation, research-based practice, and social justice. Students are expected to adhere to these principles: <http://cehd.gmu.edu/values/>.
