EDIT 590 DL1: Educational Research in Technology
3 Credits, Fall 2017

PROFESSOR:

Name: Dr. Ryan Rucker

Office hours: By Appointment

Office location: Thompson Hall, L040

Cell phone: 803-730-6714 (please no text/calls after 10 pm ET)

Prerequisites/Corequisites

None

University Catalog Course Description

Focuses on developing skills, insights, and understanding basics to performing research with emphasis on interpretation, application, critique, and use of findings in educational settings. Students develop expertise in action research methodology, design, and implementation.

Course Overview

This course introduces fundamental concepts and practices in educational research in technology. Specific applications of educational research methods to problems in instructional design, instructional and/or assistive technologies will be covered. Readings, discussions, and project assignments systematically follow the research design process to ultimately produce a research proposal as well as develop skills to evaluate educational research articles will be explored.

Course Delivery Method

This course will be delivered online using the asynchronous format via the Blackboard learning management system (LMS) housed in the MyMason portal. You will log in to the Blackboard course site using your Mason email name (everything before “@masonlive.gmu.edu) and email password. The course site will be available on Monday, August 21, 2017.

Under no circumstances, may candidates/students participate in online class sessions (either by phone or Internet) while operating motor vehicles. Further, as expected in a face-to-face class meeting, such online participation requires undivided attention to course content and communication.

Technical Requirements

To participate in this course, students will need the following resources:

- High-speed Internet access with a standard up-to-date browser, either Internet Explorer or Mozilla Firefox. Opera and Safari are not compatible with Blackboard;
- Consistent and reliable access to their GMU email and Blackboard, as these are the official methods of communication for this course
- Students may be asked to create logins and passwords on supplemental websites and/or to download trial software to their computer or tablet as part of the course requirements.
- The following software plug-ins for PCs and Macs respectively, available for free downloading by clicking on the link next to each plug-in:
  - Adobe Acrobat Reader: <http://get.adobe.com/reader>
  - Adobe Flash Player: <https://get.adobe.com/flashplayer/>
- A headset microphone for use with the Blackboard Collaborate/Adobe Connect web conferencing tool

Expectations

- Course Week:
  - Because asynchronous courses do not have a “fixed” meeting day, our week will start on Sunday, and finish on Saturday.
  - Dr. Rucker will produce some short lectures that will need to be reviewed weekly. In addition, 3 optional synchronous class sessions will be offered (see course schedule for meeting days/times) via Adobe Connect. The intent of these optional sessions is for students to receive any assistance or resolve any course-related issues.
- Log-in Frequency: Students must actively check the course Blackboard site and their GMU email for communications from the instructor, at a minimum this should be 3 times per week.
- Participation: Students are expected to actively engage in all course activities throughout the semester, which include viewing of all course materials, completing course activities and assignments, and participating in course discussions and group interactions.
- Technical Competence: Students are expected to demonstrate competence in the use of all course technology. Students are expected to seek assistance if they are struggling with technical components of the course.
- Technical Issues: Students should expect that they could experience some technical difficulties at some point in the semester and should, therefore, budget their time accordingly. Late work will not be accepted based on individual technical issues.
- Workload: Expect to log in to this course at least 3 times a week to read announcements, participate in the discussions, and work on course materials. Remember, this course is not self-paced. There are specific deadlines and due dates listed in the CLASS SCHEDULE section of this syllabus to which you are expected to adhere. It is the student's responsibility to keep track of the weekly course schedule of topics, readings, activities and assignments due.

- Instructor Support: If you would like to schedule a one-on-one meeting to discuss course requirements, content or other course-related issues, we can meet via telephone or web conference. Send me an email to schedule your one-on-one session and include your preferred meeting method and suggested dates/times.
- Netiquette: Our goal is to be collaborative, not combative. Experience shows that even an innocent remark in the online environment can be misconstrued. I suggest that you always re-read your responses carefully before you post them to encourage others from taking them as personal attacks. Be positive in your approach to others and diplomatic with your words. I will do the same. Remember, you are not competing with each other but sharing information and learning from one another as well as from the instructor.
- Accommodations: Online learners who require effective accommodations to insure accessibility must be registered with George Mason University Disability Services.

Learner Outcomes

At the conclusion of this course, students will be able to:

- Identify various methods of research suitable for different purposes in the field of instructional design and technology
- Compare/contrast quantitative, qualitative, and mixed methods research approaches
- Discuss basic theories and methods of action research in the field of instructional design and technology
- Describe the most common tools for research data analyses in the field of instructional design and technology
- List the most common components or sections of a research study required for publication
- Analyze and critique a published research study in the field of instructional design and technology
- Design a small research study incorporating the most common components or sections required for publication

Professional Standards (2012 International Board of Standards for Training, Performance and Instruction (IBSTPI)):

1. Professional Foundations
  1. Communicate effectively in visual, oral, and written form
  2. Apply research and theory to the discipline of instructional design
  4. Apply data collection and analysis skills in instructional design projects
  5. Identify and respond to ethical, legal, and political implications of design in the workplace

Course Performance Evaluation

Students are expected to submit all assignments on time in the manner outlined by the instructor.

- Assignments

- 1) Infographic (4% of final grade)

To help introduce yourself to fellow classmates and Dr. Rucker, you will have to create an infographic during the first week of the course. Detailed instructions on using Piktochart (free Web 2.0 infographic tool) will be provided to you during the first week on Blackboard.

This assignment should be submitted via the discussion board on Blackboard.

- 2) Self-Check Quizzes (10% of final grade)

In order to ensure that all students are reading the required chapters, a weekly assessment will be given. These assessments will consist of 10 questions (multiple choice and true/false questions).

These assessments should be posted and submitted via Blackboard.

- 3) Research Proposal (45% of final grade)

Throughout the semester you will develop a “mini” research proposal (10-15 pages). I will provide more details about this product as we move through the semester, but basically I will be asking you to draft the proposal in pieces as we move through the subject matter of the class. Near the end of the semester you will have a complete draft, which you will submit for peer review by other members of the class (and me). Based on your peer review and my comments on pieces or the complete draft, you will have the opportunity to revise and ultimately submit the proposal for grading. I expect the proposal to have the following sections:

- a. A statement of the problem to be addressed via the proposal, including an introduction relating your reason for undertaking the research (significance) and leading to a statement of research question(s), problem, or issue, which is guiding the research. Typically, 1-4 paragraphs in-length.
- b. An abbreviated review of theory and research related to the problem (your literature review)—I will ask for a minimum of four articles, though you are welcome to include more to suit your own purposes. Typically, 9-15 paragraphs in-length.
- c. Methodological details—including a description of the data collection approach, desired participants, approach to recruitment of participants, drafts of data collection instruments (e.g. questionnaire, interview or observation guide), your approach to managing the data that you collect, etc.—the who, what, where, why, and how of your research. Typically, 5-15 paragraphs in-length.

- d. A tentative analysis plan—what you plan to do with the data to make sense of it, and
- e. List of references—items referred to in the proposal.

The Research Proposal assignment is a performance-based assessment, the grading for which is located at the end of this syllabus. This assignment must be uploaded to Blackboard under the ASSESSMENTS link.

4) Articles Selection (20% of final grade)

To complete the research proposal, you will need to conduct a short literature review. In order to conduct any literature review, various articles (e.g., journal articles) must be located. For this assignment, you will need to locate 4 to 8 articles that you plan on using in the literature review. Once you locate these articles, cite these articles in proper APA, and submit the citations in a Microsoft Word document.

Using one of the articles identified in the assignment, you will perform a no less than 2-page but no more than 3-page double-spaced article critique. Dr. Rucker will provide more details on what questions to answer in your critique throughout the semester.

This assignment should be submitted on Blackboard (under Week #11's folder).

5) Research Blogs (21% of final grade /3 percent per blog)

For some of the weeks in the course, we will discuss elements related to your research proposal (e.g., selecting the research method). During these weeks, you will need to draft a copy of that particular section that you will place within the research proposal. Remember, this is an early draft of that particular section—a work in progress—not your final version. In addition to posting your draft, students are expected to comment/provide feedback to at least 3 classmates. Note: 2 points are given for posting your draft and 1 point for commenting.

Each blog entry and comments to peers will be submitted via the Blackboard blogging tool.

- Grading Policy

Grading Scale:

A+	97-100 points

**Note: A+ are given to those students who exceed (go over and beyond) the assignment requirements. ****

Late Work Policy

I will accept assignments up to one week late, with the exception of the Research Proposal, for a 20% deduction off of the final grade. The Research Proposal cannot be submitted late—do not ask for an extension. All due dates for each assignment are provided to you in the schedule within this course syllabus. Please bookmark these dates on your personal calendar.
