COURSE DESCRIPTION:

A. Prerequisite: Admission into the MEd Curriculum and Instruction concentration in Transformative Teaching program; completion of the EDUC 663 Culturally Relevant Pedagogy Course and the EDUC 665 Teacher Inquiry in Practice I Course.

B. Builds on the teacher research project begun in Teacher Inquiry in Practice I as teachers continue to address their pedagogical questions, take actions to improve teaching and learning, gather, analyze and interpret multiple forms of data, and share their experience in communities of practice.

DELIVERY METHOD:

This course will be delivered online (76% or more) using both synchronous and asynchronous formats via Blackboard Learning Management system (LMS) housed in the MyMason portal. You will log in to the Blackboard (Bb) course site using your Mason email name (everything before @masonlive.gmu.edu) and email password. The course site will be available by January 15.

Under no circumstances, may candidates/students participate in online class sessions (either by phone or Internet) while operating motor vehicles. Further, as expected in a face-to-face class meeting, such online participation requires undivided attention to course content and communication.

TECHNICAL REQUIREMENTS:

To participate in this course, students will need to satisfy the following technical requirements:

- High-speed Internet access with a standard up-to-date browser, either Internet Explorer or Mozilla Firefox is required (note: Opera and Safari are not compatible with Blackboard).
- Students must maintain consistent and reliable access to their GMU email and Blackboard, as these are the official methods of communication for this course.
- Students will need a headset microphone for use with the Blackboard Collaborate web conferencing tool.
- Students may be asked to create logins and passwords on supplemental websites and/or to download trial software to their computer or tablet as part of course requirements.
- The following software plug-ins for PCs and Macs, respectively, are available for free download:
 - Adobe Acrobat Reader: <https://get.adobe.com/reader/>

- Windows Media Player:
<https://windows.microsoft.com/en-us/windows/downloads/windows-media-player/>
- Apple Quick Time Player: www.apple.com/quicktime/download/

EXPECTATIONS:

- Course Participation: Active and consistent participation in the course as described in the individual course syllabus is extremely important for online courses. Students are expected to actively engage in all course activities throughout the semester, which include viewing of all course materials, completing course activities and assignments, and participating in course discussions and group interactions. The completion of all readings assigned for the course is assumed. Online courses will, at a minimum, have weekly requirements for student participation that can be documented by any or all of the following methods:
 - Submission/completion of assignments as specified by the professors
 - Communication with the professors
 - Active, meaningful, and respectful communication with peers
 Expect to log in to this course at least 3 times a week to read announcements, participate in the discussions, and work on course materials. Students must also regularly check their GMU email for communications from the instructors. Remember, this course is not self-paced. There are specific deadlines and due dates listed in the CLASS SCHEDULE section of this syllabus to which you are expected to adhere. It is the student's responsibility to keep track of the weekly course schedule of topics, readings, activities and assignments due.
- Written Assignments: All formal written assignments will be evaluated for content and presentation. (Formal assignments do not include Blackboard discussions, class/course feedback, in-class reflections or journaling) The American Psychological Association, Sixth Edition (APA) style guide should be followed for formal written assignments. All written work unless otherwise noted must be completed on a word processor and should be proofread carefully. (Use spell check!) If students are not confident of their own ability to catch errors, they should have another person proofread their work. When in doubt, they should check the APA manual. Portions of the APA manual appear at the Style Manuals link on the Mason library web guide at <http://library.gmu.edu/resources/edu/>. Students may consult the Writing Center for additional writing support. Students will do the following:
 - Present ideas in a clear, concise, and organized manner. (Avoid wordiness and redundancy.)
 - Develop points coherently, definitively, and thoroughly.
 - Refer to appropriate authorities, studies, and examples to document where appropriate. (Avoid meaningless generalizations, unwarranted assumptions, and unsupported opinions.)
 - Use correct capitalization, punctuation, spelling, and grammar.
- Sessions: Because our online courses do not have a "fixed" meeting day, our session will generally start on Wednesday and finish on Tuesday. Synchronous meetings will be arranged as needed.
- Technical Competence: Students are expected to demonstrate competence in the use of all course technology. Students are expected to seek assistance if they are struggling with technical components of the course.
- Technical Issues: Students should expect that they could experience some technical difficulties at some point in the semester and should, therefore, budget their time accordingly.

- Mentoring/Advising: If you would like to schedule a one-on-one meeting to discuss course requirements, content or other course-related issues, and you are unable to come to the Mason campus, we can meet via telephone or web conference. Send an email to your instructors to schedule your one-on-one session and include your preferred meeting method and suggested dates/times.
- Netiquette: Our goal is to be collaborative, not combative. Experience shows that even an innocent remark in the online environment can be misconstrued. We suggest that you always re-read your responses carefully before you post them to encourage others from taking them as personal attacks. Be positive in your approach to others and diplomatic with your words. We will do the same. Remember, you are not competing with each other but sharing information and learning from one another as well as from the instructors.

LEARNER OBJECTIVES:

This course is designed to enable students to:

1. Further develop as researchers and reflective practitioners,
2. Carry out, write, and present a classroom research project,
3. Frame research inquiries around moral/ethical purposes and on moral/ethical truths, and
4. Develop a critical perspective on issues related to teaching and learning.

PROFESSIONAL STANDARDS:

This course fits with the core values of the College of Education and Human Development, which include collaboration, research based practice, innovation, ethical leadership, and social justice.

This course is designed to meet the following professional teaching standards:

- GMU Dispositions for a Career Educator I, II, and III
 - Commitment to the Profession
 - Commitment to Honoring Professional Ethical Standards
 - Commitment to Key Elements of Professional Knowledge
- Teachers College Columbia Teacher Expectations I and II
 - Lifelong Learners
 - Learner-Centered Educators
- NBPTS Propositions 2, 3, and 4
 - Teachers Know the Subjects They Teach and How to Teach Those Subjects to Students
 - Teachers are Responsible for Managing and Monitoring Student Learning
 - Teachers Think Systematically about Their Practice and Learn from Experience

REQUIRED TEXTS:

*Please Note: Additional articles, chapters, PowerPoint presentations, and media will be distributed and/or posted on Blackboard as needed. You should also be doing some background reading on your chosen research topic.

COURSE ASSIGNMENTS (aligned with outcomes/objectives)

1. Assignment descriptions

- Class Participation (Assesses objectives 1, 2, 3, and 4)
- Teacher Research Journal Reflections (Assesses objectives 1, 2, 3, and 4).
 The teacher research project that you will engage in this semester is an ongoing project that you started in the fall. The reflection assignment provides you with an opportunity to formalize your thinking and actions around your research project and to allow your mentor to see where you are so that we can offer our support. Throughout the course, you must be engaged in reflection and ongoing dialogue about the research problem and process, drawing on classmates’ knowledge and experience to address new and unresolved questions and issues. This work will allow you to generate ideas and to consider and negotiate interpretations of evidence that will result in a fuller understanding of your teaching and your students’ learning. Given our ongoing emphasis on critical pedagogy, learner-centered teaching, and culturally relevant pedagogy, you are encouraged to consider incorporating one or more of these approaches as part of your research to improve teaching and learning in your classroom and school. There are three assigned journal reflections this semester. Each will have a set of reflection prompts for you to address.
- Final Research Report (Assesses objectives 1, 2, 3, and 4). This report will provide you with an opportunity to take a strong critical stance as you formally reflect upon the progress you have made in your yearlong teacher research project and to publicly share your insights. You should be continually reflecting and dialoguing with classmates and your students about your research problem and process and negotiating interpretations of evidence; the impact of this dialogue on your thinking and research progress should be documented in this report. Detailed guidelines will be provided. You will be sharing a working draft of your report with your mentor in March and with a peer in April in order to have continuous feedback and a fully polished report to hand in in May. (Your research will not be completed in March, but your working draft will help you to identify gaps where additional strategies, data, and analysis are needed.)

2. Assignment weighting

Class Participation	Session #2	10 points
	Session #3	10 points
	Session #4	10 points

TK20 PERFORMANCE-BASED ASSESSMENT SUBMISSION REQUIREMENT

There is no required performance-based assessment for this course.

PROFESSIONAL DISPOSITIONS

Students are expected to exhibit professional behaviors and dispositions at all times.

CORE VALUES COMMITMENT

The College of Education and Human Development is committed to collaboration, ethical leadership, innovation, research-based practice, and social justice. Students are expected to adhere to these principles: <http://cehd.gmu.edu/values/>.

GMU POLICIES AND RESOURCES FOR STUDENTS

Policies

- Students must adhere to the guidelines of the Mason Honor Code (see <http://oai.gmu.edu/the-mason-honor-code/>).
- Students must follow the university policy for Responsible Use of Computing (see <http://universitypolicy.gmu.edu/policies/responsible-use-of-computing/>).
- Students are responsible for the content of university communications sent to their Mason email account and are required to activate their account and check it regularly. All communication from the university, college, school, and program will be sent to students solely through their Mason email account.
- Students with disabilities who seek accommodations in a course must be registered with George Mason University Disability Services. Approved accommodations will begin at the time the written letter from Disability Services is received by the instructor (see <http://ods.gmu.edu/>).
- Students must follow the university policy stating that all sound emitting devices shall be silenced during class unless otherwise authorized by the instructor.

Campus Resources

- Support for submission of assignments to Tk20 should be directed to tk20help@gmu.edu or <https://cehd.gmu.edu/aero/tk20>. Questions or concerns regarding use of Blackboard should be directed to <http://coursesupport.gmu.edu/>.

- The Writing Center provides a variety of resources and services (e.g., tutoring, workshops, writing guides, handbooks) intended to support students as they work to construct and share knowledge through writing (see <http://writingcenter.gmu.edu/>).
- The Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS) staff consists of professional counseling and clinical psychologists, social workers, and counselors who offer a wide range of services (e.g., individual and group counseling, workshops and outreach programs) to enhance students' personal experience and academic performance (see <http://caps.gmu.edu/>).
- The Student Support & Advocacy Center staff helps students develop and maintain healthy lifestyles through confidential one-on-one support as well as through interactive programs and resources. Some of the topics they address are healthy relationships, stress management, nutrition, sexual assault, drug and alcohol use, and sexual health (see <http://ssac.gmu.edu/>). Students in need of these services may contact the office by phone at 703-993-3686. Concerned students, faculty and staff may also make a referral to express concern for the safety or well-being of a Mason student or the community by going to <http://ssac.gmu.edu/make-a-referral/>.
