EDLE 610 Leading Schools and Communities (3:3:0)

Examines critical functions of leadership and organizational management, complex decision-making responsibilities of school executives, and constructive relationships between schools and communities. Incorporates historical, ethical, philosophical, and sociological foundations of American education and the impact of organizational structure on reform and student achievement. Practical and academic emphasis on leadership skill development and dispositions. Offered by Graduate School of Education.

Course Overview

In this course, candidates will apply research, theory, and practices that impact the school leadership, school direction, parents, and communities on student learning. Through discussions, activities, and readings, candidates will use research to develop plans that impact school and student success. The foundation of the three units relate directly to effective schools' research emphasizing the importance of school mission and vision and school, family, and community partnerships.

Course Delivery Method

This course will be delivered online (100%) using an asynchronous (not "real time") format via the Blackboard learning management system (LMS) housed in the MyMason portal. You will log in to the Blackboard course site using your Mason email name (everything before @masonlive.gmu.edu) and email password. This course will be available on January 22.

Under no circumstances, may candidates participate in online sessions (either by phone or Internet) while operating motor vehicles. Further, as expected in a face-face class meeting, such online participation requires undivided attention to course content and communication.

Program Vision: The Education Leadership Program is dedicated to improving the quality of pre-K-12 education through teaching, research, and service. Candidates and practicing administrators engage in course work devoted to experiential learning, professional growth opportunities, and doctoral research that informs practice. We educate exceptional leaders who act with integrity as they work to improve schools.

Technology Requirements

To participate in this course, students will need to satisfy the following technical requirements:

- High-speed Internet access with a standard up-to-date browser, either Internet Explorer or Mozilla Firefox is required (note: Opera and Safari are not compatible with Blackboard).
- Students must maintain consistent and reliable access to their GMU email and Blackboard, as these are the official methods of communication for this course.
- Students will need a headset microphone for use with the Blackboard Collaborate web conferencing tool. [Delete this sentence if not applicable.]
- Students may be asked to create logins and passwords on supplemental websites and/or to download trial software to their computer or tablet as part of course requirements.

On-line Course Expectations

- Course Week: Because asynchronous courses do not have a "fixed" meeting day, our week will start on Tuesday and finish on Monday.
- Log-in Frequency: Candidates must actively check the course Blackboard site and their GMU email for communications from the instructor, class discussions, and/or access to course materials at least 3 times per week.
- Participation: Candidates are expected to actively engage in all course activities throughout the semester, which include viewing of all course materials, completing course activities and assignments, and participating in course discussions and group interactions.
- Technical Competence: Candidates are expected to demonstrate competence in the use of all course technology. Candidates who are struggling with technical components of the course are expected to seek assistance from the instructor and/or College or University technical services.

- Technical Issues: Candidates should anticipate some technical difficulties during the semester and should, therefore, budget their time accordingly. Late work will not be accepted based on individual technical issues.
- Workload: Please be aware that this course is not self-paced. Students are expected to meet specific deadlines and due dates listed in the Class Schedule section of this syllabus. It is the student's responsibility to keep track of the weekly course schedule of topics, readings, activities and assignments due.
- Instructor Support: Students may schedule a one-on-one meeting to discuss course requirements, content or other course-related issues. Those unable to come to a Mason campus can meet with the instructor via telephone or web conference. Students should email the instructor to schedule a one-on-one session, including their preferred meeting method and suggested dates/times.
- Netiquette: The course environment is a collaborative space. Experience shows that even an innocent remark typed in the online environment can be misconstrued. Students must always re-read their responses carefully before posting them, so as others do not consider them as personal offenses. Be positive in your approach with others and diplomatic in selecting your words. Remember that you are not competing with classmates but sharing information and learning from others. All faculty are similarly expected to be respectful in all communications.
- Accommodations: Online learners who require effective accommodations to insure accessibility must be registered with George Mason University Disability Services.

There is one exception. This course requires a focus group and as a result this project can qualify for the required activity- "Organize and run one or more community focus groups dealing with suggestions for improving visibility and communications with the local school community. Present recommendations to administration"

Assignments are not accepted after the due date though at the discretion, and unusual and compelling circumstances (e.g. serious illness) due dates may be negotiated.

Every student registered for any EDLE course with a required performance-based assessment (designated in the syllabus) is required to submit these assessments to TK20. In EDLE 610, the required performances are School/Community Leaders Assessment of School Effectiveness and Parent Involvement. Evaluation of the performance-based assessments will also be completed in TK20 through Blackboard. Failure to submit the assessment to TK20 through Blackboard will result in the course instructor reporting the course grade as Incomplete (IN). Unless this grade is changed upon completion of the required TK20 submission, the IN will convert to an F nine weeks into the following semester.

Other reminders:

• GMU Add/Drop Policy: The last day to drop this class without any penalty is provided on the GMU academic calendar page http://registrar.gmu.edu/calendar/. It is the student's responsibility to check to verify that they are properly enrolled, as no credit will be awarded to students who are not.

- Plagiarism Statement: Plagiarism means using the exact words, opinions, or factual information from another person without giving that person credit. Writers give credit through accepted documentation styles, such as parenthetical citation, footnotes, or endnotes; a simple listing of books and articles is not sufficient. Plagiarism is the equivalent of intellectual robbery and cannot be tolerated in an academic setting (Statement of English Department at George Mason University).
- Copyright: Copyright rules also apply to users of the Internet who cite from Internet sources. Information and graphics accessed electronically must also be cited, giving credit to the sources. This material includes but is not limited to e-mail (don't cite or forward someone else's e-mail without permission), newsgroup material, information from Web sites, including graphics. Even if you give credit, you must get permission from the original source to put any graphic that you did not create on your web page. Shareware graphics are not free. Freeware clipart is available for you to freely use. If the material does not say "free," assume it is not. Putting someone else's Internet material on your web page is stealing intellectual property. Making links to a site is, at this time, okay, but getting permission is strongly advised, since many Web sites have their own requirements for linking to their material.
- Academic Integrity & Inclusivity: This course embodies the perspective that we all have differing perspectives and ideas and we each deserve the opportunity to share our thoughts. Therefore, we will conduct our discussions with respect for those differences, meaning we each have the freedom to express our ideas, but we should also do so keeping in mind that our colleagues deserve to hear differing thoughts in a respectful manner, i.e. we may disagree without being disagreeable. http://integrity.gmu.edu/
- Diversity, Religious Holiday: Please refer to George Mason University's calendar of religious holidays and observations (http://ulife.gmu.edu/calendar/religious -holiday-calendar/). It is the student's responsibility to speak to the instructor in advance should their religious observances impact their participation in class activities and assignments.
- Student Privacy Policy: George Mason University strives to fully comply with FERPA by protecting the privacy of student records and judiciously evaluating requests for release of information from those records. Please see George Mason University's student privacy policy https://registrar.gmu.edu/students/privacy/

Course Assignments

Assignment #1 School/Community Leaders Assessment of School Effectiveness

Rationale

It is easy (and popular) to talk about school vision, but it is rare that we check whether or not others perceive our schools as achieving the vision they set out for themselves. This assignment requires you to determine how leaders in your school community perceive your school's performance. Taking focus group discussions as raw data and analyzing them through the frame of your school's vision statements requires you to determine if your school's theories in use are well aligned with its espoused theories—an important initial step toward school improvement. Weaving community perceptions into the school improvement process is critical to building community support for change and advancement. Presenting your analysis and action plan is a crucial part of the process of leading for school improvement.

Process

- Working with your intern supervisor/principal identify a minimum of 7 or 8 leaders in the school community, community at large or business community who have a stake in this issue.
- Develop an interview protocol to be used in the discussion with the identified leaders, with the major question being "How well is our school implementing its vision statement?"
- You will establish a meeting date and location and invite participants to attend. Provide a clear, concise summary of the purpose of the focus group, the nature of questions, how data will be used, the right to confidentiality of responses and the time needed for the interview meeting.
- After conducting the focus group, build a matrix with questions and significant responses. Look for common themes that will be summarized in the paper, along with contrasting points of view, lack of clarity of the issue, and other significant concerns.

Your paper will be 6-10 pages long and include:

- An introduction that includes a thesis statement;
- A description and analysis of the school's vision statement regarding the degree to which it relates to current instructional programs, SIP goals, and resources, demonstrating the ability to formulate plans to steward school vision statements (ELCC 1.1);
- A profile of the school and community that demonstrates your ability to develop and use evidence-centered research strategies and strategic planning processes by thoroughly defining demographic and performance data, instructional practices and programs, improvement goals, school community trends, and areas for potential change (ELCC 1.2);
- A summary of the methods used and results of the focus group discussion, including a matrix of responses with the participant roles clearly labeled, demonstrating the ability to interpret information and communicate progress toward achievement of school vision and goals for educators in the community and other stakeholders (ELCC 1.4);
- A narrative and matrix that includes a comprehensive summary of all phases of the focus group discussions, demonstrating the ability to use collaboration strategies to collect, analyze, and interpret school, student, faculty, and community information (ELCC 4.1);
- A thorough analysis of focus group evidence, yielding a clear and concise set of recommendations for improvement based on stakeholder suggestions and analysis of existing school programs or practices, demonstrating an ability to involve community partners in the decision-making processes at the school by providing (ELCC 4.4);
- A fully-developed action plan that explicitly and clearly relates to the data collected with steps toward improvement explicitly stated, connecting your ability to identify strategies or practices to build organizational capacity that promotes continuous and sustainable school improvement by providing (ELCC 1.3); and
- A summary that demonstrates your ability to conduct a needs assessment and develop collaboration strategies for effective relationships with families and caregivers by including a clear and detailed focus on meeting the needs of families and caregivers (ELCC 4.3).

Be sure to conclude with a restatement of your thesis and a brief discussion of the implications of what you learned from the focus group experience and your action plan.

Assignment 2: Parent Involvement* (200 Points)

This assignment includes written [170 points] and presentation [30 points] components.

A written proposal for improved parent involvement that requires the use of Measures of School, Family, and Community Partnerships to conduct an assessment of parent involvement in your school and the development of recommendations and planning for improvement. This assignment also requires the development of an 7 to 10 minute presentation that summarizes your findings, recommendation, and planning for improvement. Presentation should be submitted to the Discussion Board [see Blackboard].

The proposal includes the following elements as described here and in the Parent Involvement Rubric:

Introduction

Describe in summary terms the current parent involvement program in your school and then foreshadow the results of your assessment and your recommendations to improve it.

Program Description and Assessment

Describe the parent involvement program in your school by indicating what the school is doing in regard to Epstein's six types of parent involvement (parenting, communicating, volunteering, learning at home, decision-making, and collaborating with the community).

Assess each type of parent involvement by explaining a. the degree to which the program addresses each type of parent involvement, b. the degree to which the efforts satisfy the needs of the parents, and c. the degree to which the efforts satisfy the needs of the school. In your assessment, cite any evaluations of the efforts that may be available and the findings of your own investigation.

Program Improvement Recommendations

Write recommendations for improving the program based on your assessment of the greatest needs for improvement. The program improvement recommendation should include:

Rationale Indicate why you are making the recommendations and the ways in which they respond to your assessment. A useful way to establish the rationale is to conduct a discrepancy analysis in which you describe what the ideal program would look like and how your current program compares.

Outcomes Specify in measurable terms two types of outcomes. Process or implementation outcomes describe major elements of what will change in the delivery of the program (e.g., the implementation of a new service, completing professional development efforts). Substantive outcomes refer to changes in behavior (e.g., levels of parent commitment and involvement, and student achievement).

Implementation Plan Provide the steps for implementation, assuring that you will address the functions of

- planning,
- building support,
- building capacity to conduct the program,
- securing resources if needed,
- implementing programmatic interventions or activities,
- evaluating the process and evaluating substantive outcomes.

In addressing those functions, indicate

- the activity or task,
- who will be responsible for completing it,
- when (date) it will be completed,
- any resources required, and
- evidence that will be accepted as a sign of accomplishment.

Evaluation Plan Describe how you will evaluate both process and substantive outcomes, indicating

- what measures will be used
- how the data will be collected
- how the analysis will be accomplished

The proposal should be 10 pages (+/-) excluding title and reference pages

The parent involvement presentation includes the following elements as described here and in the Parent Involvement (Presentation) Rubric:

Using your proposal, develop a 7 to 10-minute presentation to be delivered to a mock panel of school administrators that highlights the assessment, recommendation, and planning for improved parent involvement at your school—an individual Discussion Board activity.
