Course Overview

In the seminar, students:

1. Develop and refine ideas for their doctoral dissertation;
2. Establish a doctoral dissertation committee;
3. Write drafts of their proposal, leading to the final document.

Course Delivery Method

Group discussions, guest speakers, individual and small group meetings with the instructor, student presentations. Some sessions will be online.

Learner Outcomes or Objectives

This course is designed to enable students to do the following:

With support from this class in addition to students' dissertation advisors and committees, students will complete and successfully defend their doctoral dissertation proposals (as approved by their dissertation committees).

Professional Standards

This course is intended to help students meet a portion of Standard 6 of the Ph.D. in Education program: Students will demonstrate ability to conduct, report, and defend original research in their individual specialization area. This standard is evaluated in Assessment 6, Independent Research Skills, and is administered at the Final Comprehensive Portfolio, Doctoral Dissertation Proposal Defense, and Doctoral Dissertation Defense.

Recommended Text-Style Manual: Select depending on discipline

American Psychological Association (2019). Publication manual of the American Psychological Association (7th ed). American Psychological Association.

Note: A new APA manual was released in October 2019.

Iverson C, Christiansen S, Flanagin A, et al. (2007). AMA Manual of Style: A Guide for Authors and Editors. (10th ed.) Oxford University Press.

Professional writing style is a very important component of the dissertation. Since the format is complex, master it early and do not wait until the dissertation process. If you begin writing using APA or AMA format, you will not have to go back and correct errors later.

Course Performance Evaluation

Students are expected to submit all assignments on time in the manner outlined by the instructor (e.g., Blackboard, hard copy). Please note that the formal assessment for completion of this course is the Doctoral Proposal Defense, as approved by the student's dissertation committee.

Assignments

Throughout the semester, exercises and assignments are geared towards helping you, the students, to: (1) identify your own area of research; (2) critically evaluate relevant empirical research; (3) develop a workable research question and/or set of hypotheses; and (4) to select and explain appropriate methodological approaches relevant to the questions generated.

Idea Paper

Each student will draft a short (5-7 page) overview describing the intended dissertation and help students move forward with writing the dissertation proposal. This paper is designed to elicit constructive feedback from the instructor, class members, and the student's advisor and committee members. The paper will be peer reviewed and should summarize the following.

Individual Meetings with Dissertation Chair and the Instructor

Each student is expected to be in communication with their dissertation chair either electronically or in person throughout the semester. During these meetings, students should present drafts, report on progress to date, and be prepared to raise any questions or issues the student considers relevant. The instructor is also available to meet with students and discuss ideas generally and help with input on research design ideas and progress toward goals. However, the instructor is not a substitute for the dissertation chair and committee members.

Dissertation Proposal Presentation

As the student nears completion of the dissertation proposal, students should consider and incorporate the suggestions and recommendations of the dissertation chair along with any relevant information from individual meetings with the instructor and interactions with the dissertation committee into their dissertation proposal. This proposal will also be presented at the formal defense scheduled with the dissertation committee. Students who are ready for this step at the end of the semester are invited and encouraged to make a practice presentation to the class.

The presentation should be about 20 minutes in length and will be followed by questions/group discussion. Students who are not ready to defend their proposal at the end of the semester will give a 3-minute Thesis Presentation. PowerPoint or equivalent presentation format is recommended.

Grading Policies

Students receive a final grade of S (Satisfactory), IP (In Progress), or F (Failure). A grade of S is given when the student completes course requirements and successfully defends the dissertation proposal to the student's dissertation committee. If this seminar concludes before the proposal is approved by the student's committee, the grade of IP is given and students need to maintain continued enrollment in EDUC 998 credits. The grade will be changed to S once the proposal is successfully defended. EDUC 999 (Doctoral Dissertation) credits cannot be taken unless EDUC 998 is completed with a grade of S. The grade of F may be given where there is a lack of participation or completion of courses requirements, poor attendance, or absence of professional cooperation.

Professional Courtesy

Professionalism, collegiality, and courtesy are expected of all students. Students are expected not only to develop their own proposal, but also to provide positive and professional support for other students, in the spirit of a community of scholars. Students are expected to attend all scheduled meetings, provide thoughtful and constructive input for other students, and communicate regularly with student colleagues on the class Blackboard site.

Professional Dispositions: Students are expected to exhibit professional behaviors and dispositions at all times. See <https://cehd.gmu.edu/students/policies-procedures/>

Core Values Commitment

The College of Education & Human Development is committed to collaboration, ethical leadership, innovation, research-based practice, and social justice. Students are expected to adhere to these principles: <http://cehd.gmu.edu/values/>.
