ECED 691.001 Policy Perspectives in Early Childhood Education
3 Credits, Spring 2021
01/25/2021 – 05/10/202
Online Asynchronous

Faculty

Name: Carley Fisher-Maltese, PhD
Office Hours: By Appointment
Office Location: Thompson Hall 1251, Fairfax Campus
Office Phone: 703-993-4848
Email Address: cfisherm@gmu.edu

Prerequisites

Enrollment limited to students with a class of Advanced to Candidacy, Graduate, Non-Degree or Senior Plus. Enrollment is limited to Graduate, Non-Degree or Undergraduate level students. Students in a Non-Degree Undergraduate degree may not enroll.

University Catalog Course Description

Explores historical and current trends and issues involving legislation and policy in early childhood education, multilingual education, early childhood special education, and multicultural education. Focuses on historical role of social advocacy, development of advocacy skills, and collaboration and consultation with other professionals and staff in early childhood education of services and context of service delivery.

Course Delivery Method

This course will be delivered online (76% or more) using an asynchronous format via Blackboard Learning Management system (LMS) housed in the MyMason portal. You will log in to the Blackboard (Bb) course site using your Mason email name (everything before @masonlive.gmu.edu) and email password. The course site will be available on January 25, 2021.

Under no circumstances, may candidates/students participate in online class sessions (either by phone or Internet) while operating motor vehicles. Further, as expected in a face-to-face class meeting, such online participation requires undivided attention to course content and communication.

Technical Requirements

To participate in this course, students will need to satisfy the following technical requirements:

- High-speed Internet access with standard up-to-date browsers. To get a list of Blackboard's supported browsers see https://help.blackboard.com/Learn/Student/Getting\_Started/Browser\_Support#supported-browsers

To get a list of supported operation systems on different devices see https://help.blackboard.com/Learn/Student/Getting\_Started/Browser\_Support#tested-devices-and-operating-systems

- Students must maintain consistent and reliable access to their GMU email and Blackboard, as these are the official methods of communication for this course.
- Students will need a headset microphone for use with the Blackboard Collaborate web conferencing tool.
- Students may be asked to create logins and passwords on supplemental websites and/or to download trial software to their computer or tablet as part of course requirements.
- The following software plug-ins for PCs and Macs, respectively, are available for free download:
  - Adobe Acrobat Reader: <https://get.adobe.com/reader/>
  - Windows Media Player: <https://support.microsoft.com/en-us/help/14209/get-windows-media-player>
  - Apple Quick Time Player: www.apple.com/quicktime/download/

Expectations

- Course Week: Because asynchronous courses do not have a “fixed” meeting day, our week will start on Tuesday and finish on Monday.
- Log-in Frequency: Students must actively check the course Blackboard site and their GMU email for communications from the instructor, class discussions, and/or access to course materials at least 4 times per week.
- Participation: Students are expected to actively engage in all course activities throughout the semester, which includes viewing all course materials, completing course activities and assignments, and participating in course discussions and group interactions.
- Technical Competence: Students are expected to demonstrate competence in the use of all course technology. Students who are struggling with technical components of the course are expected to seek assistance from the instructor and/or College or University technical services.
- Technical Issues: Students should anticipate some technical difficulties during the semester and should, therefore, budget their time accordingly. Late work will not be accepted based on individual technical issues.
- Workload: Please be aware that this course is not self-paced. Students are expected to meet specific deadlines and due dates listed in the Class Schedule section of this syllabus. It is the student’s responsibility to keep track of the weekly course schedule of topics, readings, activities and assignments due.
- Instructor Support: Students may schedule a one-on-one meeting to discuss course requirements, content, or other course-related issues. Those unable to come to a Mason campus can meet with the instructor via telephone or web conference. Students should email the instructor to schedule a one-on-one session, including their preferred meeting method and suggested dates/times.
- Netiquette: The course environment is a collaborative space. Experience shows that even an innocent remark typed in the online environment can be misconstrued. Students must always re-read their responses carefully before posting them, so as others do not consider them as personal offenses. Be positive in your approach with others and diplomatic in selecting your words. Remember that you are not competing with classmates, but sharing information and learning from others. All faculty are similarly expected to be respectful in all communications.

- Accommodations: Online learners who require effective accommodations to ensure

Learner Outcomes or Objectives

This course is designed to enable students to do the following:

1. Describe the legislation and policy-making process related to culturally, linguistically, and ability diverse young children and their families.
2. Describe the continuum of services and the fiscal and regulatory context of service delivery at the local, state, and national levels.
3. Describe the administrative aspects and legal mandates for early childhood programs.
4. Analyze a current policy issue related to the lives of culturally, linguistically, and ability diverse young children and their families.
5. Describe the historical role of social advocacy and the role of educators in advocating for young children to ensure equity and access in service delivery.
6. Identify characteristics of advocates/leaders and analyze own leadership skills.
7. Plan and implement an appropriate awareness/advocacy/leadership response.
8. Demonstrate the ability to implement actions through collaboration and consultation with professional peers and staff.

Professional Standards – Division of Early Childhood Professional Preparation Standards and National Association for the Education of Young Children Professional Standards and Competencies

Upon completion of this course, students will have met the following professional standards:

- Assignments and/or Examinations

Reading Logs (15 points)

The readings for this course are divided into three groups. “Required Readings” are listed first in the schedule. These are readings that everyone will complete prior to Blackboard discussion posts. “Additional Readings” are posted in the week’s course content folder. Students may choose from these which to read (or listen or watch, as some will be videos and/or podcasts). “Self-Selected Readings” will begin halfway through the course. These readings are meant to correspond to the policy issue students choose for their final project, and may be book chapters, research or news articles, podcasts, documentaries, or other forms of high-quality media.

What this means is that reading for this course is going to look different for everyone, and thus, it will be students’ responsibility to track their reading across the semester with a reading log (template will be provided) and submit it at the end of the course.

Discussion Board Posts (10 points)

In at least nine of the first twelve weeks of class, students should post a discussion thread based on the week’s theme, course readings, or discussion questions posted for that week. In the final week, students will post a discussion thread based on their final project for others to read and respond. This means at least ten substantive posts (at least two paragraphs each) are required over the semester. Initial posts are due by Wednesday and a response to at least three other students’ threads are due by the end of the week (Monday). Please note that responding to other students’ threads, as well as the instructor’s posts, are required and counted as class participation points.

Small-Group Policy Issue Final Project (50 total points)

A major portion of the grade for this course involves a team-based project learning assignment that covers a broad policy topic area and a team-identified critical issue related to culturally, linguistically, and ability diverse young children and their families. Within the first half of the semester, students will select a broad topic to be the focus of a project-based learning assignment designed to learn about the various components of policy.

Over the course of the semester, working individually and as a collaborative team, students will become novice policy analysts in their broad policy topic. Teams will meet online via Blackboard Collaborate or another virtual platform, but not in person.

Teams will be created around a shared interest in a critical policy issue relevant to culturally, linguistically, and ability diverse children and families and will collaborate on a series of assignments leading up to a final group presentation. As the semester progresses, teams can refine or reframe this issue to garner broad understanding and agreement. As a team, students will build a case to support the issue. Each student is responsible for participating in all parts of the project, but individuals may take leads on different parts.

Part 1: Research a Critical Issue in ECE (15 points)

Research a critical issue in ECE and enacted and/or proposed policy/legislation/regulation that addresses this critical issue (approximately 5-7 pages, double-spaced). Part 1 will include the following:

- Summary of issue (10 points)
  - Share own experiences with this critical issue (in the classroom/school where they teach, in their own education) (Each group member shares an experience)
  - Summarize research or reporting that describes the depth and breadth of this problem
- Resource list – Include a reference page and a list of additional reading and/or resources (5 points)

Part 2: Policy Brief & Counterargument (15 points, 10 & 5, respectively)

Students will write an overview of an existing policy related to their critical issue, and make policy recommendations for better addressing the critical issue (approximately 7 pages). Students will do the following:

- Identify a policy related to this critical issue and the level of government where it was created.
- Include the history of the policy (influential court decisions, changes to the policy), key definitions, challenges, relevant research, etc.
- Write a policy position statement that identifies how they think this policy should be changed (amended, abolished, or new policy)
- As a separate piece, write a strong counter argument for this issue (What do the critics say?). They will locate and appropriately cite relevant research that provides evidence for counter argument (approximately 2 pages, double-spaced).

Part 3: Group Presentation (10 points)

Groups will submit a 10- to 15-minute presentation on their critical issue and policy recommendation to be viewed asynchronously by other classmates. Groups will do the following:

- Present information in the form of choice (a Prezi, PowerPoint with recorded audio, video, or podcast) that will be posted on Blackboard with the group's Policy Brief.
- Use visuals and integration of multi-media (relevant video, graphics, audio), keeping in mind that creativity is encouraged!
- Include an overview of the critical issue, the policy relevant to this issue, a policy position statement, and additional resources.
- Include how members of the group are impacted by this policy in their classroom, school, or own educational experiences.
- Include instructions for how to be an advocate for this issue (Who could you write a letter to? What events could you participate in? What organizations could you support or contact for more information?).
- Create a discussion thread on Bb for your critical issue, and respond to classmates' and professor's questions.

Part 4: Advocacy Letter (10 points) (Individual)

Students will write a convincing letter to a decision-maker or letter to the editor supporting the group's argument (approximately 1-page single-spaced, formal letter format). Alternatively, students can write an advocacy letter on a different policy topic covered in the semester that they feel passionate about. Students must identify a person and include his/her position and mailing address to which to send the letter.

Attendance and Participation (25 points)

Because active participation and engagement are imperative for optimal learning, preparation for and participation in online activities will be evaluated based on the following criteria:

- Students complete readings and online content as evidenced by their ability to discuss and write about the concepts presented and examined in the texts as well as participate fully in related activities.
- Students are actively involved in online learning experiences as evidenced by (a) participating in all activities, (b) engaging in small- and large-group discussions, (c) completing written work related to the activities, and (d) supporting the participation and learning of classmates.
- Students show evidence of critical reflective thinking through online discussions, activities, and written reflections.
- Students display professional dispositions at all times while interacting with the instructor and other students.
- Students complete participation activities across the semester that complement the scheduled course topic. Instructors will periodically collect artifacts from the activities. Students who actively engage in the learning experience will receive credit for their efforts. Graded participation activities are not announced and are implemented at the discretion of the instructor.
- Students submit an attendance and participation self-evaluation.

Written Assignments

All formal written assignments will be evaluated for content and presentation. The American Psychological Association, Seventh Edition (APA) style will be followed for all written work. All written work unless otherwise noted must be completed on a word processor and should be proofread carefully. If students are not confident of their own ability to catch errors, they should have another person proofread their work. When in doubt, they should check the APA manual. Students may consult the Writing Center for additional writing support.

Students will do the following:

1. Present ideas in a clear, concise, and organized manner. (Avoid wordiness and redundancy.)
2. Develop points coherently, definitively, and thoroughly.
3. Refer to appropriate authorities, studies, and examples to document where appropriate. (Avoid meaningless generalizations, unwarranted assumptions, and unsupported opinions.)
4. Use correct capitalization, punctuation, spelling, and grammar.
5. Type the paper with double spacing, indented paragraphs, 1-inch margins all around, and 12-point Times New Roman font.

- Grading

A = 95-100   A- = 90-94   B+ = 87-89   B = 80-86   C = 70-79   F = < 70

Incomplete (IN): This grade may be given to students who are passing a course but who may be unable to complete scheduled coursework for a cause beyond reasonable control.

All CEHD students are held to the university grading policies as described in the Academic Policies section of the current catalog, which can be accessed at <http://catalog.gmu.edu>. Those students enrolled in a CEHD Licensure Graduate Certificate program, however, must earn a B- or better in all licensure coursework. A degree-seeking graduate student will be dismissed after accumulating grades of F in two courses or 9 credits of unsatisfactory grades (C or F) in graduate courses. A 3.0 grade point average is required for completion of the graduate degree.

Professional Dispositions

Students are expected to exhibit professional behaviors and dispositions at all times.

See <https://cehd.gmu.edu/students/policies-procedures/>.

Class Schedule

This course runs for 14 weeks, from January 25-May 10, with Tuesday as the first day of the week. Within each week, you will be able to access resources and participate in discussions at your own pace.

- On Mondays, content is posted for each week's themes, including a lecture, slides, and other resources posted on Bb. It is also best that readings are done at the beginning of the week, Tuesday at the latest. Initial Discussion Board posts in response to the materials posted and weekly reading are due by Wednesday and responses to at least three other students' threads are due by the end of the week (Monday).

- On Tuesdays or Wednesdays (to be decided), there will be a discussion/extended learning day where the instructor will host a live Q&A session via Blackboard Collaborate (time and date to be decided) to discuss and answer any questions related to the lecture, course readings, and assignments. For these discussions, students may submit questions via Bb on a discussion board thread for each week, or live by joining the meeting (attendance is optional, but participation in the ongoing discussion will be noted). If you are not able to join, a recording will be posted after the live session, and you'll be able to participate in the discussion thread until the end of the week (Monday).
- On Mondays, the last day of each week, assignments are due by 11:59pm. The reason the last day is Monday is so nothing is due on the weekend.

While you will need to find your own weekly rhythm to manage course readings, lectures, discussions, and assignments, generally you will want to follow the schedule below.

Core Values Commitment

The College of Education and Human Development is committed to collaboration, ethical leadership, innovation, research-based practice, and social justice. Students are expected to adhere to these principles: <http://cehd.gmu.edu/values/>.

GMU Policies and Resources for Students

Policies

- Students must adhere to the guidelines of the Mason Honor Code (see <https://catalog.gmu.edu/policies/honor-code-system/>).
- Students must follow the university policy for Responsible Use of Computing (see <https://universitypolicy.gmu.edu/policies/responsible-use-of-computing/>).
- Students are responsible for the content of university communications sent to their Mason email account and are required to activate their account and check it regularly. All communication from the university, college, school, and program will be sent to students solely through their Mason email account.

- Students with disabilities who seek accommodations in a course must be registered with George Mason University Disability Services. Approved accommodations will begin at the time the written letter from Disability Services is received by the instructor (see <http://ds.gmu.edu/>).
- Students must follow the university policy stating that all sound emitting devices shall be silenced during class unless otherwise authorized by the instructor.

Campus Resources

- Support for submission of assignments to Tk20/VIA should be directed to tk20help@gmu.edu or <https://cehd.gmu.edu/aero/tk20>. Questions or concerns regarding use of Blackboard should be directed to <https://its.gmu.edu/knowledge-base/blackboard-instructional-technology-support-for-students/>.
- For information on student support resources on campus, see <https://ctfe.gmu.edu/teaching/student-support-resources-on-campus>.
