University Catalog Course Description

Advanced research seminar that integrates qualitative and quantitative approaches, methods, and data in a single study. The course covers the paradigms and “mental models” that inform both approaches, and the ways in which qualitative and quantitative goals, questions, methods, and interpretive strategies can be productively combined.

Course Overview

This course is an advanced research seminar dealing with integrating qualitative and quantitative approaches, methods, and data in a single study. Students should have a good basic understanding of both approaches; we will address some fundamental issues for each approach that are particularly relevant for combining these approaches. The course covers the assumptions and “mental models” that inform both approaches, and the ways in which qualitative and quantitative goals, questions, methods, analysis strategies, and presentation styles can be productively integrated.

Course Delivery Method

This course will be delivered using a combination of lecture, in-class activities, and group discussions. You will log in to the Blackboard (Bb) course site using your Mason email name (everything before @masonlive.gmu.edu) and email password. This is a seminar class where we will engage in teaching, learning, and interactions as a learning community.

Learner Outcomes or Objectives

1. Understand the most important ways in which mixed methods research differs from single-method research, and the main issues that should be addressed in combining approaches.
2. Understand the most important strengths and limitations of both qualitative and quantitative research, and how to integrate these approaches in a mixed method study.
3. Be able to use these understandings to evaluate published mixed methods research.
4. Be able to plan and communicate the design and process of a mixed methods study.

Professional Standards

Upon completion of this course, students will have met the following professional standards:
Not applicable.

Required Texts

Creamer, E.G. (2018). An introduction to fully integrated mixed methods research. SAGE Publishing

Other required readings will be posted on the course website (Blackboard). Learning resources and activities for MAXQDA will be posted on Blackboard.

Course Performance Evaluation

Students are expected to submit all assignments on time in the manner outlined by the instructor. No penalty for submissions made between 12:00 am and 9:00 am. Late assignments will not be accepted without prior permission from the instructor.

- Written Assignments (70%)

Module 1 (10%): Students will select one of the assignment options based on Module 1 content (detailed guidelines provided on Blackboard), or discuss with the instructor if they want to suggest another option. The suggested length is five double-spaced pages, Times New Roman, 12-point font. Assignments should be submitted on Blackboard.

Module 2 and 3 (60%)

Critical Synthesis of Literature (30%) - Students will complete a focused methodological review of literature related to their substantive area of interest. The focus of the literature review is on analyzing methodological features and findings of studies in relation to their philosophical underpinning; Students have the option of analyzing and reviewing mixed methods studies on the topic or presenting the potential for mixed methods research based on an analysis of empirical studies on a topic. The suggested length is ten double spaced pages, Times New Roman 12-point font.

Proposal (30%) - Informed by the review, students will conceptualize and propose a mixed methods study related to their substantive area of interest. The proposal will closely adhere to content covered in Module 2 carefully taking into consideration study purpose, questions, sampling, data analysis, and dissemination; content from Module 3 will inform the technical aspects of writing and presenting a mixed methods research proposal.

- Consultation (5%)

Students will make an individual 10-5 minute presentation (video recording) of their research proposal. This is an opportunity for students to gather feedback from the instructor and peers about their thinking: questions, concerns, and innovative ideas about their substantive topic. The focus of the consultation should be on research design and the potential for integration or using mixed or multiple approaches. Detailed guidelines about the consultation are available on Blackboard.

- Collaborative Group Project (15%)

Students will work with teammates to develop their understanding of a topic/theme in MM with the aim of contributing to the larger mixed methods scholarly community. Teams will present their work to the class and submit a brief abstract (500 words).

- Class Participation (10%)

Includes points for attendance, timely completion of in-class activities, learning modules, and participation in discussions. Attendance is required; please notify the instructor if you have to miss a deadline or cannot attend a class session.

- Grading

The following grading scale will be used for all class assignments:

Percent	Letter Grade
98 – 100	A+
93 – 97	A
90 – 92	A-
88 – 89	B+
83 – 87	B
80 – 82	B-
70 – 79	C
