GMU Course Description

Introduces professionals to augmentative and alternative communication (AAC) for individuals with severe speech and language impairments. Addresses the knowledge and skills needed to assess the potential AAC user, make team decisions, develop and implement instruction, and evaluate the effects of instruction aimed at motivating, building, and expanding communication, choice-making, and social interaction.

Advising Contact Information

Please make sure that you are being advised on a regular basis as to your status and progress in your program. Students in Special Education and Assistive Technology programs can contact the Special Education Advising Office at 703-993-3670 or speced@gmu.edu for assistance. All other students should refer to their assigned program advisor or the Mason Care Network (703-993-2470).

Course Delivery Method

Learning activities include the following:

1. Class lecture and discussion
2. Application activities
3. Video and other media supports
4. Research and presentation activities
5. Electronic supplements and activities via Blackboard

This course will be delivered online (76% or more) using an asynchronous format via the Blackboard Learning Management System (LMS) housed in the MyMason portal. You will log in to the Blackboard (Bb) course site using your Mason email name (everything before @masonlive.gmu.edu) and email password. The course site will be available on Monday, August 21, 2023.

Under no circumstances may candidates/students participate in online class sessions (either by phone or Internet) while operating motor vehicles. Further, as expected in a face-to-face class meeting, such online participation requires undivided attention to course content and communication.

Technical Requirements

To participate in this course, students will need to satisfy the following technical requirements:

- High-speed Internet access with standard up-to-date browsers. To get a list of Blackboard's supported browsers, see: Browser Support \(https://help.blackboard.com/Learn/Student/Ultra/Getting_Started/Browser_Support\)
- Students must maintain consistent and reliable access to their university email and Blackboard, as these are the official methods of communication for this course.
- Students may be asked to create logins and passwords on supplemental websites and/or to download trial software to their computer or tablet as part of course requirements.
- The following software plug-ins for PCs and Macs, respectively, are available for free download:
 - Adobe Acrobat Reader: https://get.adobe.com/reader/
 - Windows Media Player: https://support.microsoft.com/en-us/help/14209/get-windows-media-player
 - Apple Quick Time Player: www.apple.com/quicktime/download/

Expectations

- Course Week: Because asynchronous courses do not have a “fixed” meeting day, our week will start on Monday and finish on the following Tuesday (i.e., 1 week+1 day).
- Log-in Frequency: Students must actively check the course Blackboard site and their GMU email for communications from the instructor, class discussions, and/or access to course materials at least 3 times per week.
- Participation: Students are expected to actively engage in all course activities throughout the semester, which includes viewing all course materials, completing course activities and assignments, and participating in course discussions and group interactions.
- Technical Competence: Students are expected to demonstrate competence in the use of all course technology. Students who are struggling with technical components of the course are expected to seek assistance from the instructor and/or College or University technical services.
- Technical Issues: Students should anticipate some technical difficulties during the semester and should, therefore, budget their time accordingly. Late work will not be accepted based on individual technical issues.
- Workload: Please be aware that this course is not self-paced. Students are expected to meet specific deadlines and due dates listed in the Class Schedule section of this syllabus. It is the student’s responsibility to keep track of the weekly course schedule of topics, readings, activities, and assignments due.
- Instructor Support: Students may schedule a one-on-one meeting to discuss course requirements, content, or other course-related issues. Students should email the instructor to schedule a one-on-one session, including suggested dates/times.
- Netiquette: The course environment is a collaborative space. Experience shows that even an innocent remark typed in the online environment can be misconstrued. Students must always re-read their responses carefully before posting them so that others do not consider them as personal offenses. Be positive in your approach to others and diplomatic in selecting your words. Remember that you are not competing with classmates but sharing information and learning from others. All faculty are similarly expected to be respectful in all communications. Emails should be professional in tone.

- Accommodations: Online learners who require effective accommodations to ensure accessibility must be registered with their University's Office of Disability Services.

Learner Outcomes

Upon completion of this course, teacher candidates/students will be able to:

1. Identify characteristics of non-symbolic and symbolic communication
2. Describe and discuss methods for assessment, identification of priorities, and monitoring progress of individuals with communication impairments.

Professional Standards

This course is part of The Virginia Consortium for Teacher Preparation in Special Education Adapted Curriculum, a grant from the Virginia Department of Education that includes George Mason University, Virginia Commonwealth University, Radford University, Norfolk State University, Old Dominion University, and James Madison University. Through the completion of the Adapted Curriculum Consortium program, students are eligible for teacher licensure in the Commonwealth of Virginia in the area of Special Education – Adapted Curriculum K-12. (Council for Exceptional Children [CEC] and the Interstate Teacher Assessment and Support Consortium [InTASC]). Upon completion of this course, students will have met the following professional standards: CEC Standard 5: Instructional Planning and Strategies (InTASC 7,8).

Course Performance Evaluation

Students are expected to submit all assignments on time in the manner outlined by the instructor (e.g., Blackboard, VIA, hard copy).

VIA Performance-Based Assessment Submission Requirement

It is critical for the special education program to collect data on how our students are meeting accreditation standards. Every teacher candidate/student registered for an EDSE course with a required Performance-based Assessment (PBA) is required to upload the PBA to VIA/SLL (regardless of whether a course is an elective, a one-time course, or part of an undergraduate minor). A PBA is a specific assignment, presentation, or project that best demonstrates one or more CEC, InTASC or other standards connected to the course. A PBA is evaluated in two ways. The first is for a grade, based on the instructor's grading rubric. The second is for program accreditation purposes. Your instructor will provide directions as to how to upload the PBA to VIA/SLL.

For EDSE 534: No requirement to upload a Performance-based Assessment (PBA) to VIA/SLL.

Course Assignments

1. Weekly Learning Modules (14 Modules @ 30 points each, 420 points total)

All modules will open on the specified Monday at 9:00 AM and all work must be submitted by the following Tuesday by 11:59 pm. Within any learning module, students will be presented with a series of activities. Some activities, such as viewing a video or reading a chapter in the textbook are categorized as “Read/View”. Other activities, such as taking a quiz are categorized as “Complete”. All activities identified as “Complete” must be submitted on time and be of satisfactory quality to receive full credit. Please note that while “Read/View” activities are not “graded,” access to them is being tracked through Blackboard, and the content is assessed through additional course assignments.

Modules are graded as a whole and must be completed in their entirety for credit. If a student struggles with a task within the module but has attempted a good faith effort to complete the work, they will receive an opportunity to discuss their questions/concerns and re-do the task for full credit. Please follow the guidelines listed (e.g., bullets, full-sentences, length of response) listed for each task.

2. Communication Board Development, Use, & Reflection (170 points)

Using the strategies and procedures reviewed in class, students will create a communication board for their own use. Students will participate in a nonspeaking experience while using a communication board. Students will: design a core communication board for their personal use, use their board in a setting of their choosing for one hour, and write a reflection on their experiences and impressions. A template and rubric will be provided.

3. Toolbox (170 points)

Students will create an AAC toolbox of 10 tools. In their toolbox, students will identify 3 low-tech tools, 3 mid-tools, 3-high tech tools, and 1 informative tool (e.g., communication passport or wallet). For each tool, students will explain the tool, how it is made/designed, how it is accessed, how it supports communication, etc. Students will film a video of themselves presenting these tools with supporting slides and post the video to Blackboard. More specific directions and a rubric will be provided on Blackboard for this assignment. Please note tools must be communication tools, not behavior management tools.

4. Case Study Feature Matching Matrix- (Chart and 2-page recommendations) (170 points)

Students will choose a case study from the set provided by the instructor. Students will identify at least 5 needs (e.g., vocabulary, motor skills/access to the tool, bilingual support, literacy, etc.) of the child in their case study. Students will then identify 3 possible high-tech AAC tools that could be appropriate for their selected child. Students will use a feature-matching matrix (chart) to determine which tool is the best fit for their case study student. After completing, the chart, students will write a 2-page summary explaining the child's needs and how the tool they selected meets their specific needs. More specific directions and a rubric will be provided on Blackboard for this assignment. A list of approved tools will be provided. If you'd like to review a tool not listed, please get approval from the instructor.

5. Live Meeting (35 points)

The instructor will offer multiple 30-minute live meetings at various times (e.g., day times, after-school, evenings, weekends, etc.) via Zoom. These meetings will be semi-structured and will highlight important topics, review assignments, and answer any questions that arise. The instructor will provide a list of approximately 15 possible meeting times. If you cannot attend during the scheduled times, please contact the instructor to make alternate arrangements. Every effort will be made to find a mutually agreeable time to meet. Please note, undergraduates are required to attend this meeting within the first half of the semester (i.e., on or before 10/23/23). Graduate students, you may attend at any point in the semester.

6. New Professional OR Research Module (35 points)

In addition to the 14 weekly modules, students enrolled in the undergraduate section of the course will complete the module, Important Information for New Professionals, and students enrolled in the graduate section of the module will complete the module, Research and Trends in AAC. These modules will follow the same format as the weekly modules. They will be available by September 4, 2023, and will be due by the last day of class.

Student Evaluations of Teaching:

The student evaluation of teaching, or SET, is an online course survey. You are strongly encouraged to complete this form for each course as this feedback helps instructors and administrators improve your class experiences. Towards the end of the course, you will receive email and Blackboard notifications when the evaluations open. Your anonymous and confidential feedback is only shared with instructors after final grades have been submitted. More information about the SET can be found on The Institute of Effectiveness and Planning website at <https://oiep.gmu.edu/set/>

Course Policies and Expectations

Attendance/Participation

Students are expected to actively engage in all course activities throughout the semester, which include viewing all course materials, completing course activities and assignments, and participating in course discussions and group interactions. Grading for work completed in Learning Modules is specifically outlined in Weekly Learning Modules within the Other Assignments section of the syllabus.

Please note that while only certain learning elements are assessed through “grades”, the instructor can still assess student involvement and engagement using other measures. Blackboard enables the instructor to view such data as login dates, duration of time spent online, access to specific content elements, and more. The instructor will use this data along with course grades to ensure that students are actively engaged in the course. Students struggling to complete work on time or who appear to not be engaging fully with course content will be asked to conference with the instructor. If you feel that you are having difficulty keeping up, please set up a conference!

Late Work

Weekly Learning Modules

In fairness to students who make the effort to submit assignments on time, there will be progressive point reduction per day for late work within each learning module. Work that is submitted one day late will receive a 20%-point reduction, work that is submitted two days late will receive a 30%-point reduction, and work that is submitted 3 days late will receive a 50%point reduction. After three days past due, students will receive a 0 for any missing work within that learning module.

ONE-TIME Extension: The instructor recognizes that unexpected challenges may arise during the semester and, therefore, will allow students to request a one-time extension that they can apply to one Weekly Learning Module (Modules only; not to any major assignments). Students must request the extension by emailing the instructor (mbetz1@gmu.edu) prior to the original due date; requests made after 11:59 pm on the specified due date will not be honored.

Students do not need to receive confirmation from the instructor to assume they have received this ONE-TIME extension; it will be automatic if it is the first request. The deadline for extended work will be Sunday of that week (i.e., 5 days late). All extensions will be tracked in the Blackboard gradebook.

After midnight Sunday, late module work will NOT be accepted.

Major Course Assignments

In fairness to students who make the effort to submit assignments on time, there will be a 10%- point reduction per day for late papers for up to 5 days. (For example, a 200-point assignment will lose 20 points per day). After 5 days, students will earn a 0 for the missed assignment.

ONE-TIME EXTENSIONS ARE FOR MODULES ONLY.
 ONE-TIME EXTENSIONS DO NOT APPLY TO MAJOR COURSE ASSIGNMENTS.

Other Requirements

All assignments should reflect professional/college-level spelling, syntax, and grammar. If you experience difficulties with the writing process, you will need to document your work with your university’s writing center during this course to improve your skills. All work must be proofread. There are excellent, free tools like Grammarly to check basic grammar and spelling.

At the instructor’s discretion, students may be given the opportunity to resubmit an assignment. Resubmitted assignments are not eligible for full credit.

Note: The George Mason University Honor Code will be strictly enforced. See Academic Integrity Site (<https://oai.gmu.edu/>) and Honor Code and System (<https://catalog.gmu.edu/policies/honor-code-system/>). Students are responsible for reading and understanding the Code. “To promote a stronger sense of mutual responsibility, respect, trust, and fairness among all members of the George Mason University community and with the desire for greater academic and personal achievement, we, the student members of the university community, have set forth this honor code: Student members of the George Mason University community pledge not to cheat, plagiarize, steal, or lie in matters related to academic work.” Work submitted must be your own new, original work for this course or with proper citations.

Professional Dispositions

Students are expected to exhibit professional behaviors and dispositions at all times. See Policies and Procedures (<https://cehd.gmu.edu/students/policies-procedures/>). Students are expected to exhibit professional behaviors and dispositions at all times. See Policies and Procedures (<https://cehd.gmu.edu/students/policies-procedures/>). Professional dispositions are an essential function of a special educator’s job, indicating that these dispositions are critical to develop and assess in special education licensure programs. In the College of Education and Human Development, dispositions are formally and separately evaluated in at least three points in each student’s program – a self-evaluation at the start of their program, a self-evaluation at the mid-point of their program, and a university supervisor’s evaluation during internship. In special education graduate licensure programs, the initial self-evaluation is completed in a designated course (EDSE 501), the mid-point self-evaluation is completed in designated courses (EDSE 627, EDSE 661, and EDSE 616), and the internship evaluation is completed by instructors in EDSE 783, EDSE 784, and EDSE 785. In addition to these three designated evaluation times, instructors may complete instructor-rated disposition assessments other times throughout the program. When dispositions are assessed, it is important that for areas where a positive disposition is rated as “not proficient,” the student takes steps to grow as an educator.

Core Values Commitment

The College of Education and Human Development is committed to collaboration, ethical leadership, innovation, research-based practice, and social justice. Students are expected to adhere to these principles: See Core Values (<http://cehd.gmu.edu/values/>).

Honor Code

Each university has its own honor code, and it is important for you to review the honor code at your university. However, all students taking this course, regardless of the university they are enrolled in, are expected to follow this honor code, and may be asked to pledge all assignments and their exam to indicate that they have followed the honor code. A pledge means that you have not cheated or plagiarized, nor have you given or received assistance that violated the description of how assignments are to be completed for this course. The shortened version may be used: “Pledged” followed by the date and your full name (typed “signatures” will be OK for assignments/tests submitted electronically).

Students at all universities pledge not to cheat, plagiarize, steal, or lie in matters related to academic work.” Work submitted must be your own or with proper citations.
