University Catalog Course Description

Introduction to educational issues; not applicable in graduate-level teacher education programs. Introduces psychological, sociological, educational, and physical aspects of diverse populations in today's schools for early and middle education. Emphasizes litigation and legislation pertaining to education of diverse populations.

Note: Requires school-based field experience during course.

Please be aware of and follow all policies and procedures for Mason's Safe Return to Campus <https://www.gmu.edu/safe-return-campus>

Course Overview

This course provides an introduction to the sociocultural factors (e.g., race, ethnicity, religion, language, gender, sexual orientation, socioeconomic status) intersect to shape cultural identity and influence the educational experience of culturally and linguistically diverse and exceptional learners. Laws and policies that affect education along with instructional approaches and strategies that value diverse learners through a strengths-based lens and support inclusive classrooms are explored. This course provides a springboard for deeper learning around these critical topics.

Course Delivery Method

This course will be delivered online (76% or more) using an asynchronous format via Blackboard Learning Management system (LMS) housed in the MyMason portal. You will log in to the Blackboard (Bb) course site using your Mason email name (everything before @ gmU.edu) and email password. The course site will be available on Tuesday, January 16, 2024 at 12:00 p.m. EST.

Under no circumstances, may candidates/students participate in online class sessions (either by phone or Internet) while operating motor vehicles. Further, as expected in a face-to-face class meeting, such online participation requires undivided attention to course content and communication.

Technical Requirements

To participate in this course, students will need to satisfy the following technical requirements:

- High-speed Internet access with standard up-to-date browsers. To get a list of Blackboard's supported browsers see: https://help.blackboard.com/Learn/Student/Getting_Started/Browser_Support#supported-browsers
- To get a list of supported operation systems on different devices see: https://help.blackboard.com/Learn/Student/Getting_Started/Browser_Support#tested-devices-and-operating-systems
- Students must maintain consistent and reliable access to their GMU email and Blackboard, as these are the official methods of communication for this course.
- Students will need a headset microphone for use with the Blackboard Collaborate web conferencing tool.
- Students may be asked to create logins and passwords on supplemental websites and/or to download trial software to their computer or tablet as part of course requirements.
- The following software plug-ins for PCs and Macs, respectively, are available for free download:
 - Adobe Acrobat Reader: <https://get.adobe.com/reader/>
 - Windows Media Player:
<https://support.microsoft.com/en-us/help/14209/get-windows-media-player>
 - Apple Quick Time Player: www.apple.com/quicktime/download/

Expectations

- Course Week: Because asynchronous courses do not have a “fixed” meeting day, our week will start on Monday and finish on Sunday.
- Log-in Frequency: Students must actively check the course Blackboard site and their GMU email for communications from the instructor, class discussions, and/or access to course materials at least 3 times per week.
- Participation: Students are expected to actively engage in all course activities throughout the semester, which includes viewing all course materials, completing course activities and assignments, and participating in course discussions and group interactions.
- Technical Competence: Students are expected to demonstrate competence in the use of all course technology. Students who are struggling with technical components of the course are expected to seek assistance from the instructor and/or College or University technical services.
- Technical Issues: Students should anticipate some technical difficulties during the semester and should, therefore, budget their time accordingly. Late work will not be accepted based on individual technical issues.
- Workload: Please be aware that this course is not self-paced. Students are expected to meet specific deadlines and due dates listed in the Class Schedule section of this syllabus. It is the student’s responsibility to keep track of the weekly course schedule of topics, readings, activities and assignments due.
- Instructor Support: Students may schedule a one-on-one meeting to discuss course requirements, content or other course-related issues. Those unable to come to a Mason campus can meet with the instructor via telephone or web conference. Students should email the instructor to schedule a one-on-one session, including their preferred meeting method and suggested dates/times.
- Netiquette: The course environment is a collaborative space. Experience shows that even an innocent remark typed in the online environment can be misconstrued. Students must always re-read their responses carefully before posting them, so that others do not consider them as personal offenses. Be positive in your approach with others and diplomatic in selecting your words. Remember that you are not competing with classmates, but sharing information and learning from others. All faculty are similarly expected to be respectful in all communications.
- Accommodations: Online learners who require effective accommodations to insure accessibility must be registered with George Mason University Disability Services.

Learner Outcomes or Objectives

This course is designed to enable students to do the following:

1. Understand aspects of diverse populations regarding the educational setting including legislation and litigation.
2. Be able to access additional information about diverse populations so they can meet the needs of the students in their classes.
3. Examine broader issues related to diversity, inclusion, social justice, and multiculturalism in education.

4. Engage in critical and reflective discussions related to systemic–isms in education.
5. Create a safe, challenging and enriching environment for all students.

They work collaboratively with families to gain a holistic perspective on children’s strengths and needs and how to motivate their learning.
- Standard #5: Developing as a Professional. Candidates promote learning and development of every child through participation in collaborative learning environments, reflective self-study and professional learning, and involvement in their professional community.

Course Performance Evaluation

This asynchronous, online course is not self-paced. You will be expected to complete one module every week. Completing a Weekly Module includes reading, participating in Discussion Board, and completing any assignments and/or activities within that Week Module. You are asked to engage deeply with the course content, to take risks in your thinking, and to listen to and learn from your classmates.

Students are expected to submit all assignments on time and in the manner outlined by the instructor on the assigned due date. Late assignments will not receive credit unless you speak with the professor 48 hours in advance to discuss an extension. All assignments will be posted in Blackboard.

This reflection paper makes connections between learning in EDUC 301 and the observations completed. (Assignment details below and on Blackboard).	Due Sun. Mar. 3	50

Major Assignment Descriptions

- Attendance/Class Participation (20 points for 7 weeks; 10 points for last half week): Active participation in learning activities on Blackboard in each weekly module is a crucial element of this asynchronous, online class. Your class participation grade each week will reflect the quality of your participation. Such participation can only occur when you are present, prepared and engaged in online learning activities (e.g., Discussion Board, Blogs, Wikis, etc.). Each week begins on Monday morning and ends on Sunday night at 11:59pm. It is your responsibility to complete readings, watch videos, explore websites, etc. throughout the week and to complete any learning activities per directions and due dates in each weekly module. That is, please do not expect to get online once or twice and/or wait until the weekend to engage with the content and complete learning activities. Quality engagement each week means exploring the content deeply, thinking critically, and sharing your thoughts and responses with your peers via respectful dialog and other learning activities during each weekly module. See Class Participation Rubric under the Major Assignments button on Blackboard.

- Teacher Journal Article Response (50 points): Read a current professional practitioner journal article on topics related to effectively teaching diverse and exceptional learners in inclusive classrooms. Article options are organized into folders: (1) Teaching Learners with Special Needs, Teaching English Learners, and (2) Creating Culturally Responsive Teaching and Learning Environments. You will select one article from one of these folders that is of interest to you. Using the graphic organizer template provided (see Major Assignments button on Blackboard), you provide information about the article you have read including: (1) 3 key concepts, (2) 2 analytical paragraphs showing connections and applications to course readings, (3) 1 quote from each source and reflection point worthy of class discussion, and (4) 3 questions to explore in the future and why. Provide proper citation in APA-7 style for the article. As you read your selected journal article, please keep notes about your connections, critiques, and/or questions/wonderings so that you will be prepared to complete the graphic organizer. The graphic organizer on Blackboard provides information on how points will be allocated on this assignment.
- Be a Teacher Presentation (100 points): You want to be a teacher...here's your chance! You will also practice collaboration skills by working with a peer to create a 15-minute multimedia, narrated presentation about one of the approved topics related to teaching and learning with exceptional and diverse learners. This multimedia presentation will include a brief, meaningful activity to engage your peers around the content/topic. You and your partner will share your presentation via a Discussion Board link. Everyone will view and respond respectfully peers' presentations. Topic approval and sign-up required. (List of potential topics, specific directions, and rubric on Blackboard).
- Professional Dialogue with Future Teacher Self (100 points): In this major assignment, you will have a chance to apply and share the knowledge, disposition, and skills that you have gained in EDUC 301 in a creative way by conducting an interview with your FUTURE TEACHER SELF! You will provide thoughtful, paragraph-level responses to 4 questions each around 4 key topics in EDUC 301.

For this assignment, you will imagine that it is 5 years into the future, and you are now being asked to share your knowledge, philosophy, and vision for working with diverse and exceptional learners and their families with equity and excellence!

You will answer a set of 4 questions for 4 different topics related to EDUC 301. You will also generate questions of your own to demonstrate that you are a reflective practitioner who is inquisitive and curious to learn more about effective teaching.

The 4 topics for the dialog/interview are:

*Working with English Learners (ELs)

- *Working with ELs who are Dually Identified for Special Education Services
- *Working with Students with Individualized Education Plans (IEPs) in Inclusive Classrooms
- *Working with the Parent(s)/Guardian(s)/Families of Diverse & Exceptional Learners

Throughout the course, you should keep notes in a way that makes sense to you about key understandings around these four topics. You should also jot your thoughts about why these key understandings are important to your practice as a future educator of diverse and exceptional learners. These notes will be helpful to you when you begin to answer the specific questions for each of the four topics. These specific questions will be available to you on Blackboard at the beginning of the course.

Your answers to each set of four questions for each of the 4 topics is worth 25 points (25 x 4 = 100 points). You will be graded holistically. Specific criteria for evaluation and the questions for each topic will be shared in Bb in the “EDUC 301 Spring 2024 Professional Dialog/Interview w Your FUTURE Teacher Self!” document under the “Major Assignments” tab.

Paper Specifics: Create a title page for your work. Use 1” margins and Times New Roman 12-point font. Please use single-spacing with double-spacing between each question and between major topics. Include page numbers. Include the headings for each of the 4 major topics in your paper. Be sure to include each question in each section above your answer.

- Field Experience & Reflection (50 points): This major assignment is based on viewing and reflecting on a variety of instructor-selected video options via Mason’s Teaching Channel and/or other educational websites that portray optimal instructional environments for diverse PK-12 learners. You will need to set up a Mason Teaching Channel account and will be provided with explicit directions by Mason’s Education Librarian on Blackboard for doing that.

These videos provide a glimpse into optimal instructional environments in fully inclusive PK-12 classrooms (e.g., with students receiving special education services and ELs) as well as ESOL classrooms (e.g., taught by an ESOL teacher or a content class with ELs taught by general ed teacher).

You will write a reflection paper that makes connections between learning in EDUC 301 and the video observations. That means that you will need to take careful, detailed notes as you view the videos that you can refer back to as you write your paper.

For your Field Experience Reflection Paper, you will respond to THREE instructor-selected videos and ONE video from options that the instructor will provide. You will answer a set of questions for ALL FOUR of the video observations. These questions will invite you to reflect thoughtfully on what you observe in the videos and to anchor your thinking and assertions in your reflections to learning from EDUC 301, other education courses (if applicable), and any relevant experiences of your own in schools as a teacher education student and/or as a former PreK-12 student.

For ALL FOUR video observations, you will answer ALL of the questions in each set of questions in a clear, detailed way using academic-style language. You should write one or two well-written paragraphs for each of the questions in each set for each video observation.

You are aiming to write thoughtful, reflective answers that demonstrate that you are thinking deeply about connections to what you have learned in EDUC 301. You are welcome to make relevant connections to other education courses and/or your own experiences, but you must make clear, well-explained connections to learning from EDUC 301.

Your answers to each set of questions for each of the 4 video observations is worth 25 points (25 x 4 = 100 points). You will be graded holistically. Specific criteria for evaluation and the question sets for each video observation will be shared in Bb in the “EDUC 301 Spring 2024 Field Experience Paper & Evaluation” document under the “Major Assignments” tab.

Paper Specifics: Create a title page for your work. Use 1” margins and Times New Roman 12-point font. Please use single-spacing with double-spacing between each question in each set and between video observations. Include page numbers. Please include the TITLES for each of the videos addressed in your paper. AND, be sure to include each question from each set of questions above your responses to each video observation.

Important Program Policies:

• AI Policy

Use of Generative-AI tools should be used following the fundamental principles of the Honor Code. This includes being honest about the use of these tools for submitted work and including citations when using the work of others, whether individual people or Generative-AI tools.

• Online Participation/Attendance Policy

In accordance with the GMU Attendance Policies (University Catalog, 2023-2024), “Students are expected to attend the class periods of the courses for which they are registered. In-class participation is important not only to the individual student, but also to the class as a whole. Because class participation may be a factor in grading, instructors may use absence, tardiness, early departure, or failure to engage in online classes as de facto evidence of nonparticipation.” Students are expected to participate in ALL online discussions/learning activities each week. Not participating in a weekly module is equivalent to being absent from a face-to-face class and will be reflected with a zero for the week and counted as an unexcused absence. If you miss more than two classes, you may not be able to earn a passing grade and then must retake the class.

In the event that an entire weekly module must be missed due to unavoidable extenuating and extreme circumstances, please communicate to the instructor 1 week in advance of that event. Extenuating circumstances include:

Absence from class to observe a religious holiday, to serve jury duty, or to participate in required military service are exemptions to the above policy. If you anticipate being absent for any of these reasons, please make arrangements at least 48 hours in advance.

In addition, you are expected to be on time to class each week unless 48 hours advance notice has been provided to the instructor.

Students without a serious, extenuating reason for missing a weekly module will lose the participation points for that class session. Students with one or more unexcused absences during this 7 ½ -week course will not receive credit for the course.

• Grading

GMU Policies and Resources for Students

Policies

- Students must adhere to the guidelines of the Mason Honor Code (see <https://catalog.gmu.edu/policies/honor-code-system/>).
- Students must follow the university policy for Responsible Use of Computing (see <https://universitypolicy.gmu.edu/policies/responsible-use-of-computing/>).
- Students are responsible for the content of university communications sent to their Mason email account and are required to activate their account and check it regularly. All communication from the university, college, school, and program will be sent to students solely through their Mason email account.
- Students with disabilities who seek accommodations in a course must be registered with George Mason University Disability Services. Approved accommodations will begin at the time the written letter from Disability Services is received by the instructor (see <http://ds.gmu.edu/>).
- Students must silence all sound emitting devices during class unless otherwise authorized by the instructor.
